See 70 Dead In Avalanche

SALLANCHES, France (AP) — Seventy persons — most of them tubercular boys under the age of 15 — were feared dead today, buried under a massive avalanche that swept down on them as they slept.

Reds Claim U.S. Expanding Indochina War

PARIS (AP) — The Viet Cong alleged today that American troops have penetrated deep into Cambodian territory from South Vietnam and share responsibility for the massacre of Vietnamese civilians living in Cambodia.

Deputy Viet Cong negotiator Dinh Ba Thi told the 63rd weekly session of the deadlocked Vietnam peace talks that the United States is "running headlong into an extremely dangerous adventure" by expanding the war throughout the Indochinese peninsula.

"The United States must be held responsible for the criminal acts of its henchmen in Cambodia and for their consequences," Thi declared.

Deputy North Vietnamese negotiator Nguyen Minh Vy said the United States is trying to save itself from defeat in South Vietnam by propping up "reactionary administrations" in Laos and Cambodia and expanding the war to those countries.

U.S. negotiator Philip C. Habib, the last speaker of the meeting, said: "The plain truth is that you do not respect the sovereignty, independence, neutrality or territorial integrity of Cambodia or Laos. It is an accepted fact that today your regular armed forces are conducting combat operations in Cambodia and Laos and are using the territory of those countries as a base of operations against South Vietnam. That is the root of the problem in those two countries."

"Further, twice in the past few days your forces have indiscriminately rocketed Saigon with accompanying death and injury among innocent civilians. . . . The recent increase in your military attacks in South Vietnam is not compatible with serious negotiations."

Magnuson Plans Bills On Pollution

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Warren Magnuson, calling for a "world view of the environment," said today he will soon introduce legislation dealing with international aspects of pollution.

"The problems of environmental quality are global in scope and extend far beyond the industrialized nations," the Washington state Democrat said in remarks prepared for a meeting of international scientists.

Magnuson said his bill will lay the groundwork for a World Environmental Institute which would serve as an information clearing house and a center for research on international environmental problems.

Most nations, said Magnuson, "have not yet paused to consider questions of ecology that we ignored ourselves for generations."

"A cooperative international effort could clarify the choices these nations face and could help avoid the costly mistakes we made in similar stages of our own development."

Under Magnuson's proposal, the institute would be a nonpolitical body open to all nations.

Rhodes Orders Troops Ready For Possible Use

By PERRY SMITH
Associated Press Writer

OFORD, Ohio (AP)—Miami University's trouble-torn campus was quiet today as 700 National Guard troops were poised nearby, ready to put down any further outbreaks by demonstrators.

Gov. James A. Rhodes, who flew here early today, called up the troops after demonstrators were ejected from the ROTC building late Wednesday night by the highway patrol.

The troops were from units in Dayton, Middletown, Greenville and Oxford. They gathered at a Nike missile base about two miles from the campus.

"We will not go on campus unless there is a need for us," Adj. Gen. S. T. Del Corso said during an early morning briefing with the governor and other officials.

Del Corso said 170 demonstrators were arrested and charged with trespassing, drunkenness and resisting arrest during the demonstration. They were being released on $50 bond after court appearances.

Rhodes, after surveying the situation, said such violence would not be tolerated.

"If such challenges to authority were to continue unabated there would be constant chaos on all of our campuses," he said.

Rhodes said some of those arrested were out-of-town agitators.

"They have a studied plan to destroy higher education," Rhodes said, declining to elaborate.

However, Ohio Highway Patrol Supt. Robert Chiaramonte confirmed that "some of them are not students. How many, I do not know."

Officials, however, said the demonstration apparently was linked to the nationwide New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam.

Says Drivers Should End Strike

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The president of the Ohio Teamsters Union has called on his more than 16,000 dissident members to return to work today and end a 16-day-old wildcat strike that has been marked with violence and mass industrial layoffs.

William Presser, Ohio Teamsters president and an international union vice president, said he believes a small group — estimated by another union official at about 200 — of disgruntled drivers is using violence and "goon" tactics to intimidate other members and continue the strike.

"This violence must end," Presser said.

But William Setzer, a pro-strike leader and member of Local 407 in Cleveland, said a demonstration by strikers has been called for today at the union hall.

International Harvester in Springfield announced Wednesday the closing of two assembly lines, affecting 2,000 of its 5,000 employees, because it cannot receive or ship materials.

The Otis Material Handling Co.'s Baker Division and Motor Truck Division in Cleveland were to lay off 250 employees today.

Paralyzing trucking in north-eastern Ohio have been 6,000 striking Teamsters in Cleveland, 4,000 in the Akron area, 3,500 in the Toledo area, 3,000 in the Canton area and some 1,400 members of the Fraternal Association of Steel Haulers in the Canto area.

The only report of violence Wednesday involved James R. Ballenger of Pickerington, Fairfield County, who said 14 men in five cars and a pickup truck forced him to park his truck along Ohio 303 near Brunswick, Medina County. He said the men drove him to a bus station in Cleveland and told him to go home. He was not injured.

There was a report of shots fired at three trucks on the Ohio Turnpike near Sandusky Tuesday night. In Fayette County, a Nashville, Tenn., trucker was slightly injured by flying glass Tuesday night when a shot was fired through his truck's window on Interstate 71.

Charles A. Tabasko Jr. was cited after a police raid in June 1967 uncovered marijuana in a 15-room Bowling Green house he leased to a so-called "communal" group. Marijuana is classified as a drug under Ohio law.

Other disorders occurred at Columbia University in New York City, Miami University of Ohio and Pennsylvania State University and in the nation's capital.

The latest moratorium was timed to coincide with the April 15 federal income tax filing deadline. Many demonstrations protested the use of taxes to support the war.

Turnouts were generally less than were the South Vietnamese in those days.

Suppose the Americans refuse to become further involved. Suppose, in fact, the program of phased U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam continues apace, regardless of events in the rest of Indochina. Suppose North Vietnam and its Viet Cong ally wind up dominating both Laos and Cambodia.

Well, for one thing, it would likely get the whole question of Asia and its future back to where it was when the U.S. venture in Vietnam was beginning.

Douglas Impeachment Bid Reaches House Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — An impeachment resolution and call for a special investigation of Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas have reached the House in the wake of charges the 71-year-old jurist may be unfit for his post.

House Minority Leader Gerald R. Ford touched off a vitriolic, parliamentary wrangle Wednesday night after asserting Douglas may be unfit to serve as a justice because of questionable outside interests and possible association with underworld figures.

Ford threw his support to creation of a special House committee to study the Douglas case to see if there is cause for impeachment.

Under terms of a resolution proposed today, the special investigative panel would be required to submit its report in 90 days.

When Ford finished his speech, Rep. Andrew Jacobs of Indiana, a liberal Democrat, said the GOP leader had a duty to file an impeachment resolution since he "has stated publicly that he favors impeachment of Justice Douglas."

"Since he (Ford) refuses to do so and since he raises grave questions, the answers to which I do not know, but every American is entitled to know," Jacobs told the House. "I introduce at this time the resolution of impeachment in order that a proper and dignified inquiry into this matter might be held."

Jacobs' resolution was referred to the House Judiciary Committee, headed by Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y.

"It is obviously triggered by the defeat of Judges (G. Harlow) Carswell and (Clement) Haynsworth," said Celler of Ford's attack.

The Judiciary Committee would be considered friendlier toward Douglas than the House Rules Committee, to which the investigation resolution goes.

Ford said Douglas twice was on the dissenting side when the Supreme Court ruled against magazine publisher Ralph Ginzburg.

He said that while the second case was before a federal court, "clearly on the way to the highest court in the land," one of Ginzburg's magazines, "Avant Garde," paid Douglas $350 for an article on folk singing.

Ginzburg, in a statement issued Wednesday, said he hoped Ford's speech would be met "with the contempt it deserves."

Vietnam Moratorium Brings Several Violent Outbreaks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vietnam Moratorium rallies Wednesday drew tens of thousands for generally peaceful protests in cities across the nation. But in a number of instances groups of radical youths rampaged afterward and clashed with police.

The worst violence came in Cambridge, Mass., where some 1,100 riot police used tear gas, dogs and clubs to battle 6,000 demonstrators who set fires, broke windows and threw rocks from rooftops in Harvard Square.

They had assembled after an earlier peaceful rally by 60,000 persons on Boston Common—the day's largest crowd.

At the Berkeley campus of the University of California, 1,000 demonstrators tried to storm the Navy ROTC headquarters. Forty law enforcement officers were bombarded with rocks, bottles and water balloons. They replied with repeated barrages of tear gas.

Other disorders occurred at Columbia University in New York City, Miami University of Ohio and Pennsylvania State University and in the nation's capital.

Laird Attempts, 'Wins' At Pool

FT. RILEY, Kan. (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird picked up a cue and broke a rack of balls Wednesday during his inspection of the game room in a tour of an enlisted men's barracks.

Laird knocked one ball into a corner pocket—the eight ball.

"I guess that wins the game," said Laird.

His guide, Maj. John E. Taylor, executive officer of the 1st Battalion, 5th Artillery, quickly replied:

"By your rules, yes sir."

Critical Course Change Works; Crewmen Well

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Apollo 13's astronauts recharged a weak battery and prepared other systems in their command ship today for the unique and critical maneuvers needed to bring their crippled craft back to earth Friday.

James A. Lovell Jr., Fred W. Haise Jr. and John L. Swigert Jr. streaked toward a splash-down in the Pacific Ocean after an engine firing Wednesday night shifted them off a course that would have left them stranded in space.

With the veteran Lovell at the controls, they triggered their lunar module engine 15 seconds and successfully changed course. Had that firing and later course corrections failed, Apollo 13 would have missed earth by 104 miles and skipped off into space.

With that hurdle cleared, the spacemen turned all attention to Friday's re-entry and landing, scheduled for 1:07 p.m. EST.

Using flashlights to find their way in the dark and chilly cabin, the astronauts checked the three batteries in the command ship that will provide the power for the blazing dive through the atmosphere. They found two of them at full 40-amp-hour strength, but the third with only about half that power available.

On a normal re-entry, they would require 70 to 80 amp hours. So Mission Control told them to hook up a cable to the power system of the lunar module and recharge the weak battery. This process will take about 15 hours and draw eight amps from the LM.

Although the temperatures in the command ship, which was drawing oxygen from the sturdy LM, were down around 50 degrees, flight director Gerald Griffin said the craft's systems

President Cuts Postal Boost To 8 Cents

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon asked Congress today to raise the cost of mailing a letter to eight cents instead of 10 cents as originally proposed and called for establishment of a new United States Postal Service.

In a special message to Congress, Nixon laid out the terms of an agreement between negotiators for government and the postal unions that couples higher wages with a revised plan to reorganize the Post Office Department.

Nixon also retreated a bit on his 1969 recommendation that the postal service be transformed into a corporation. Instead he said it should be revamped "as an independent establishment" controlled by nine public members of a bipartisan commission who would hire the postmaster general.

"The postmaster general would no longer be a member of the Cabinet, under his proposal," said Nixon, "and the postal service would be insulated from direct control by the President, the Bureau of the Budget and the Congress."

A key provision of the agreement which Congress is asked to ratify would give postal workers an eight per cent pay boost, over and above the government-wide increase of six per cent which Nixon signed into law only Wednesday. In addition, postal service employees would reach top salary in eight years instead of the present 21 years.

Soviet Union Holds Naval Maneuvers

MOSCOW (AP) — The big Soviet naval and air maneuvers have started in the North Atlantic, the Mediterranean and the Sea of Japan, the Defense Ministry newspaper Krasnaya zvezda—Red Star—reported today.

The ministry announced two days ago that the maneuvers would be held until the end of May but did not say when they would start. There also has been no announcement of how many ships and planes are taking part, but most of the Soviet navy is believed to be involved.

See 70 Dead In Avalanche

SALLANCHES, France (AP) — Seventy persons — most of them tubercular boys under the age of 15 — were feared dead today, buried under a massive avalanche that swept down on them as they slept.

The Ministry of Interior reported rescuers had found only 17 bodies 11 hours after the wall of rock and snow — 60 feet high and 600 feet wide — roared down in the darkness on two dormitories and a nurses' residence at a tuberculosis sanatorium.

"There is no hope of anyone surviving under that mass of snow and earth," said one police lieutenant as hundreds of rescue workers dug with picks, shovels, cranes and bulldozers.

The huge slide also smashed into one wing of the sanatorium's main building, but 14 children and three adults in that section were rescued unhurt.

Helicopters flying over the area 25 miles southeast of Geneva reported that a second great mass of snow was perched dangerously on the adjacent mountainside. It threatened the main sanatorium building, and the building, which houses adult patients, was ordered evacuated.

Comparatively mild weather this winter has given the Alps one of its most disastrous seasons, with at least 80 persons killed in avalanches.

The snowslide shortly after midnight Wednesday started at about 4,500 feet above the Plateau d'Assy and rolled about 1,000 feet down the slope, uprooting trees and dislodging boulders, mud and tree trunks as it gathered momentum.

It struck two buildings, each housing about 30 sleeping boys, and a chalet next door where nurses and other adults were housed.

At dawn, rescue workers said they could hear calls for help from under the snow.

The sanatorium, which has 200 beds for children, is run by the Roman Catholic Sisters of the Very Holy Savior. The order also runs the nearby establishment for adults, which was not harmed.

Welfare Plan Given Boost By House

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's sweeping welfare reform legislation appeared headed today toward a major victory in the House despite efforts by opponents to strip some of its costly provisions.

The opposition, however, fought a rear-guard action after the House voted 204 to 183 Wednesday to sustain its Rules Committee in barring all floor amendments.

Conservatives wanted to knock out provisions for families with breadwinners and for a spelled-out income insurance—$1,600 for a family of four.

They argued the cost would rise far beyond the $4.4 billion official estimate. Some liberals sought a chance to increase the assured income level. Opponents also argued the incentives for welfare recipients to train for and take self-sufficient jobs would be ineffective.

But their combined strength was not enough to upset the rule that the House must vote the whole package up or down or send it back to the Ways and Means Committee for more work.

Rep. Wilbur B. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee that fashioned the measure from the Nixon model, argued that federal costs under the present system are practically uncontrollable and that the substitute would be less expensive in the long run.

He said its combination of work incentives and requirements for welfare beneficiaries to train for and accept jobs would ultimately reduce the burden.

In a pointed appeal "to my Southern friends," many of whom oppose the measure, Mills said 50 per cent of the poor who would be affected are in the South and that 70 per cent of these are white.

"A cooperative international effort could clarify the choices these nations face and could help avoid the costly mistakes we made in similar stages of our own development."

Under Magnuson's proposal, the institute would be a non-political body open to all nations.

The only report of violence Wednesday involved James R. Ballenger of Pickerington, Fairfield County, who said 14 men in five cars and a pickup truck forced him to park his truck along Ohio 303 near Brunswick, Medina County. He said the men drove him to a bus station in Cleveland and told him to go home. He was not injured.

There was a report of shots fired at three trucks on the Ohio Turnpike near Sandusky Tuesday night. In Fayette County, a Nashville, Tenn., trucker was slightly injured by flying glass Tuesday night when a shot was fired through his truck's window on Interstate 71.

Ohio Supreme Court Upholds Conviction

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court upheld Wednesday the conviction of a Bowling Green rooming house landlord on charges of willingly permitting use of a dwelling where drugs were dispensed.

Charles A. Tabasko Jr. was cited after a police raid in June 1967 uncovered marijuana in a 15-room Bowling Green house he leased to a so-called "communal" group. Marijuana is classified as a drug under Ohio law.

Douglas Impeachment Bid Reaches House Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — An impeachment resolution and call for a special investigation of Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas have reached the House in the wake of charges the 71-year-old jurist may be unfit for his post.

House Minority Leader Gerald R. Ford touched off a vitriolic, parliamentary wrangle Wednesday night after asserting Douglas may be unfit to serve as a justice because of questionable outside interests and possible association with underworld figures.

Ford threw his support to creation of a special House committee to study the Douglas case to see if there is cause for impeachment.

Under terms of a resolution proposed today, the special investigative panel would be required to submit its report in 90 days.

When Ford finished his speech Rep. Andrew Jacobs of Indiana, a liberal Democrat, said the GOP leader had a duty to file an impeachment resolution since he "has stated publicly that he favors impeachment of Justice Douglas."

"Since he (Ford) refuses to do so and since he raises grave questions, the answers to which I do not know, but every American is entitled to know," Jacobs told the House, "I introduce at this time the resolution of impeachment in order that a proper and dignified inquiry into this matter might be held."

Jacobs' resolution was referred to the House Judiciary Committee, headed by Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y.

"It is obviously triggered by the defeat of Judges (G. Harold) Carswell and (Clement) Haynsworth," said Celler of Ford's attack.

The Judiciary Committee would be considered friendlier toward Douglas than the House Rules Committee, to which the investigation resolution goes.

Ford said Douglas twice was on the dissenting side when the Supreme Court ruled against magazine publisher Ralph Ginzburg.

He said that while the second case was before a federal court, "clearly on the way to the highest court in the land," one of Ginzburg's magazines, "Avant Garde," paid Douglas $350 for an article on folk singing.

Ginzburg, in a statement issued Wednesday, said he hoped Ford's speech would be met "with the contempt it deserves."

Vietnam Moratorium Brings Several Violent Outbreaks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vietnam Moratorium rallies Wednesday drew tens of thousands for generally peaceful protests in cities across the nation. But in a number of instances groups of radical youths rampaged after a war and clashed with police.

The worst violence came in Cambridge, Mass., where some 1,100 riot police used tear gas, dogs and clubs to battle 6,000 demonstrators who set fires, broke windows and threw rocks from rooftops in Harvard Square.

They had assembled after an earlier peaceful rally by 60,000 persons on Boston Common—the day's largest crowd.

At the Berkeley campus of the University of California, 1,000 demonstrators tried to storm the Navy ROTC headquarters. Forty law enforcement officers were bombarded with rocks, bottles and water balloons. They replied with repeated barrages of tear gas.

Other disorders occurred at Columbia University in New York City, Miami University of Ohio and Pennsylvania State University and in the nation's capital.

The latest moratorium was timed to coincide with the April 15 federal income tax filing deadline. Many demonstrations protested the use of taxes to support the war.

Turnouts were generally less than the first moratorium last Oct. 15.

Moratorium organizers expressed dismay that the voices of antiwar "moderates" were submerged by the strident demands of smaller groups of radicals.

In New York City some 20,000 demonstrators turned out in Bryant Park but radicals in the crowd pushed forward to try and take the stage and shift the focus from Vietnam to the cause of imprisoned Black Panthers.

At Columbia University Wednesday night 200 youths, many not students, broke windows, splattered red paint and set off stink bombs after a rally demanding that the university put up bail for 11 jailed Panthers.

For the first time since the massive Columbia student strike in the spring of 1968, city police were called onto the campus by acting President Andrew Cordier. There was no clash but the radicals vowed a strike today.

Laird Attempts, 'Wins' At Pool

FT. RILEY, Kan. (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird picked up a cue and broke a rack of balls Wednesday during his inspection of the game room in a tour of an enlisted men's barracks.

Laird knocked one ball into a corner pocket—the eight ball.

"I guess that wins the game," said Laird.

His guide, Maj. John E. Taylor, executive officer of the 1st Battalion, 5th Artillery, quickly replied: "By your rules, yes sir."

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—The childhood home of the late, famed Shakespearean actress, Julia Marlowe, was heavily damaged by fire Wednesday.

Critical Course Change Works; Crewmen Well

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Apollo 13's astronauts recharged a weak battery and prepared other systems in their command ship today for the unique and critical maneuvers needed to bring their crippled craft back to earth Friday.

James A. Lovell Jr., Fred W. Haise Jr. and John L. Swigert Jr. streaked toward a splash-down in the Pacific Ocean after an engine firing Wednesday night shifted them off a course that would have left them stranded in space.

With the veteran Lovell at the controls, they triggered their lunar module engine 15 seconds and successfully changed course. Had that firing and later course corrections failed, Apollo 13 would have missed earth by 104 miles and skipped off into space.

With that hurdle cleared, the spacemen turned all attention to Friday's re-entry and landing, scheduled for 1:07 p.m. EST.

Using flashlights to find their way in the dark and chilly cabin, the astronauts checked the three batteries in the command ship that will provide the power for the blazing dive through the atmosphere. They found two of them at full 40-amp-hour strength, but the third with only about half that power available.

On a normal re-entry, they would require 70 to 80 amp hours. So Mission Control told them to hook up a cable to the power system of the lunar module and recharge the weak battery. This process will take about 15 hours and draw eight amps from the LM.

Although the temperatures in the command ship, which was drawing oxygen from the sturdy LM, were down around 50 degrees, flight director Gerald Griffin said the craft's systems (Continued on Page 2)

President Cuts Postal Boost To 8 Cents

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon asked Congress today to raise the cost of mailing a letter to eight cents instead of 10 cents as originally proposed and called for establishment of a new United States Postal Service.

In a special message to Congress, Nixon laid out the terms of an agreement between negotiators for government and the postal unions that couples higher wages with a revised plan to reorganize the Post Office Department.

Nixon also retreated a bit on his 1969 recommendation that the postal service be transformed into a corporation. Instead he said it should be revamped "as an independent establishment" controlled by nine public members of a bipartisan commission who would hire the postmaster general.

"The postmaster general would no longer be a member of the Cabinet, under his proposal," said Nixon, "and the postal service would be insulated from direct control by the President, the Bureau of the Budget and the Congress."

A key provision of the agreement which Congress is asked to ratify would give postal workers an eight per cent pay boost, over and above the government-wide increase of six per cent which Nixon signed into law only Wednesday. In addition, postal service employees would reach top salary in eight years instead of the present 21 years.

Soviet Union Holds Naval Maneuvers

MOSCOW (AP) — The big Soviet naval and air maneuvers have started in the North Atlantic, the Mediterranean and the Sea of Japan, the Defense Ministry newspaper Krasnaya zvezda—Red Star—reported today.

The ministry announced two days ago that the maneuvers would be held until the end of May but did not say when they would start. There also has been no announcement of how many ships and planes are taking part, but most of the Soviet navy is believed to be involved.

The big fact of political life in Southeast Asia is Communist China, that enormous, sprawling giant whose presence broods over the whole continent. With Communist forces in control of most of Indochina, other nations in Southeast Asia are going to begin worrying about their futures.

If, after all these years, the United States can do no more than protect a relatively tiny enclave in Southeast Asia, perhaps the time will have come for the other nations to accept the inevitable and accommodate themselves to the giant in the north as best they can. In the long run this likely would mean that the American expenditure in Vietnam would have been for little.

Is there any insurance against such an outcome? There might be, for example, in an international conference such as the French government has proposed, possibly after preliminary probing for opinion in Washington, Moscow and elsewhere. In some circumstances, Moscow might be interested in view of its own worries about China.

However, up to now all the French can say about their effort is that the Americans have shown some discreet interest. The implication is that there was not much show of interest in the Communist camp which for the time being, at least, seems to have no objection to seeing the United States become even more embroiled in the enormously frustrating situation that is Indochina.

Littering Brings Fine And Sentence

Pickaway County's Sheriff Department and the city court warn all citizens to stop dumping trash on the county roadways.

An 18-year-old Circleville boy was made an example of the consequences of such an action in Municipal Court Wednesday. Dennis M. Miller, of 609 Beaver Ave., was fined $100 and sentenced to three days in jail for dumping trash on the Circleville-Tarlton Road and was ordered by officers to clean the area, filling four large garbage bags with the junk. Judge Lamb showed leniency by suspending $50 of the fine and the jail term, but placed Miller on probation for one year.

Deputies report the entire county is being littered with trash, much of it apparently tossed onto the roadside in large loads. Other violators can expect similar penalties if arrested.

Sisco Visit To Jordan Protested

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Arab guerrillas with submachine guns helped guard the U.S. Embassy in Amman today as hundreds marched again through Jordan's capital to protest the Middle East visit of U.S. Assistant Secretary of State Joseph Sisco.

The guerrillas stood alongside Jordanian troops behind coils of barbed wire thrown around the embassy compound following a mob attack on the embassy and the American cultural center Wednesday.

The cultural center was bombed and destroyed by fire. Police stood guard today over the blackened shell.

The unified command of the guerrilla movement has distributed leaflets calling for a general strike Friday to coincide with Sisco's arrival from Israel. Today more than 1,000 banner-waving demonstrators, escorted by armed guerrillas, marched through Amman chanting "Sisco, Sisco, go home, Sisco."

It was the third day of anti-American demonstrations in the city.

The Arab guerrilla movement has denounced Sisco's visit to the Middle East, charging he is trying to impose a political settlement on the Arabs. The guerrillas oppose any peaceful settlement with Israel.

$10.3 Million

Libel Suit Filed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes said his attorney filed a $10.3 million libel action against Time Inc. and reporter Denny Walsh in federal court at New York City today because of a Life article about the governor last May 2.

A copy of the suit released here states that Life's publication of a story entitled "The Governor . . . and the Mobster" was false and defamatory and that the defendants knew the statements in the article concerning Rhodes were untrue.

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation granting a six per cent across-the-board pay increase for all civilian salaried employees of the federal government has been signed into law by President Nixon.

The pay boost for civil service workers and employees of the Post Office Department is retroactive to Dec. 27.

The comparable increase for military personnel is retroactive to Jan. 1 and will apply to the serviceman's total compensation that makes it roughly equivalent to an 8.1 per cent increase in basic pay.

Cost of the pay boost over a full year is expected to total $2.8 billion for 5.3 million employees.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Poets gathered at the White House Wednesday for tea with Mrs. Richard M. Nixon and two of them, asked for their fashion views, wrote this "Ode to the Mini" on the spur of the moment.

The verse contributed by Louis Untermyer, former consultant in poetry for the Library of Congress, went:

"I think that I shall never see, A lovelier, livelier show of knee."

And the second verse, promptly ad libbed by William Jay Smith, the present consultant in poetry at the library, went:

"And if the mini continues to fall; I will not see a knee at all."

The occasion was a tea for eight foreign poets who are attending the International Poetry Festival at the Library of Congress.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, concerned over preserving President Nixon's slim $1.3 billion budget surplus predicted for the coming fiscal year, have proposed tax-collection speedups to bring in $1.6 billion for federal employees' wage increases.

Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy sent letters Wednesday to the House and Senate outlining the plan to accelerate collection of gift and real estate taxes.

Under the proposed plan, gift taxes would be collected every quarter instead of annually as required by law.

And payment of estimated estate taxes would have to be made seven months after a person's death instead of requiring the first payment 15 months after death under present law.

The provision would apply only to those estates valued at more than $150,000.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation set a record at mid-month by going 121 days without a single case of screwworms, the Agriculture Department announced Wednesday.

"Veterinarians with USDA's Agricultural Research Service say this is the longest screwworm-free period on record. The last confirmed case was reported Dec. 15 in Comal County, Texas."

Screwworms are the larvae of a fly which lays eggs in open wounds of livestock. The larvae can maim or kill cattle and other animals.

Two Are Charged With Violating City Ordinances

Charges have been filed in Municipal Court against two local citizens for violation of city ordinances.

Audrey Kearns was cited by Public Service Director Atwood Jones for permitting a taxicab firm to make an office at 139 1/2 W. Franklin St. without special certification.

Violation of the city's building code brought charges against Richard Hamner, owner of Hamner Roof and Sheet Metal firm. He is reported altering a structure located at 454 Watt St. without a building permit issued by the city.

Both cases will appear for hearing at a later date.

"If they did not have actual knowledge that certain of said statements were untrue," the petition states, "they nevertheless made them with reckless disregard of whether they were true or false."

The pressures and temperatures in the plumbing system looked fine," he reported. "Two of the thrusters have temperatures low enough so we'll have to heat them before pressurizing the system. But all these temperatures are going to rise when we apply some power to the command module with the batteries. The whole command module looks good," he said.

The command ship was disabled Monday night by an oxygen tank rupture in the attached service module. The accident knocked out fuel cells which would have provided long-life power. Without the cells, the moon landing had to be canceled and the astronauts turned to the lunar module supplies to keep them alive and bring them home.

Lovell, Haise and Swigert continued to ration vital oxygen, water and power as they raced closer to earth. They had ample margins in all systems to complete the flight. But they knew a sudden loss of any system would imperil them in the final hours of their abortive journey.

At midmorning they were 140,000 miles from home and accelerating as earth's gravity tugged them on an increasing speed.

By the time Apollo 13 hits the atmosphere at 400,000 feet Friday, they'll be traveling 24,623 miles an hour.

The landing site in the Pacific is about 580 miles southeast of Samoa. The carrier two Jima was steaming toward the area and expected to be on station Friday morning.

A tropical storm was about 700 miles from the splashdown point, but was not expected to pose any threat.

"The entry and weather tomorrow is looking better all the time," Mission Control radioed. "Very good," replied commander Lovell.

All the astronauts slept for about six hours today as they rested for the return home.

Before re-entering the atmosphere, the astronauts must discard the powerless service module and the lunar module which has been their lifeboat. Then they must power up the command ship on its re-entry batteries for the blazing dive back to earth, the last act in the most perilous drama in the history of space flight.

A team of Mission Control specialists has been working around the clock to perfect the highly technical procedures for bringing the spacemen back from the brink of disaster.

Astronauts on the ground were to practice the procedures in simulators here this afternoon before instructions are relayed to Apollo 13.

Egg Farm Planned Near Clarksburg

A building now being constructed near Clarksburg will house one of the largest egg producing operations in the state of Ohio.

The modern facility will house 33,000 laying hens expected to produce 17,000 eggs a day, according to Adena Enterprises, Inc., operators.

The windowless building will have rows of wire cages for the layers with temperature controlled eggroom. The building will not be heated since the hens provide their own heat in winter, but fans will be used to cool the house in summer.

The firm's officers said four layers will be placed in each individual wire cage and when eggs are laid, they will roll down a wire runway between the rows of cages. Two employees will travel through the runways to collect eggs and check electric power feeders and automatic water troughs.

Area egg consumers will continue to buy eggs elsewhere as products from the Clarksburg egg farm will be shipped to various parts of Ohio and not sold locally. Production is expected by August 1.

U.S. Remains

The big fact of political life in Southeast Asia is Communist China, that enormous, sprawling giant whose presence broods over the whole continent. With Communist forces in control of most of Indochina, other nations in Southeast Asia are going to begin worrying about their futures.

If, after all these years, the United States can do no more than protect a relatively tiny enclave in Southeast Asia perhaps the time will have come for the other nations to accept the inevitable and accommodate themselves to the giant in the north as best they can. In the long run this likely would mean that the American expenditure in Vietnam would have been for little.

Is there any insurance against such an outcome? There might be, for example, in an international conference such as the French government has proposed, possibly after preliminary probing for opinion in Washington, Moscow and elsewhere. In some circumstances, Moscow might be interested in view of its own worries about China.

However, up to now all the French can say about their effort is that the Americans have shown some discreet interest. The implication is that there was not much show of interest in the Communist camp which for the time being, at least, seems to have no objection to seeing the United States become even more embroiled in the enormously frustrating situation that is Indochina.

Littering Brings Fine And Sentence

Pickaway County's Sheriff Department and the city court warn all citizens to stop dumping trash on the county roadways.

An 18-year-old Circleville boy was made an example of the consequences of such an action in Municipal Court Wednesday. Dennis M. Miller, of 609 Beaver Ave., was fined $100 and sentenced to three days in jail for dumping trash on the Circleville-Tarlton Road and was ordered by officers to clean the area, filling four large garbage bags with the junk. Judge Lamb showed leniency by suspending $50 of the fine and the jail term, but placed Miller on probation for one year.

Deputies report the entire county is being littered with trash, much of it apparently tossed onto the roadside in large loads. Other violators can expect similar penalties if arrested.

Sisco Visit To Jordan Protested

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Arab guerrillas with submachine guns helped guard the U.S. Embassy in Amman today as hundreds marched again through Jordan's capital to protest the Middle East visit of U.S. Assistant Secretary of State Joseph Sisco.

The guerrillas stood alongside Jordanian troops behind coils of barbed wire thrown around the embassy compound following a mob attack on the embassy and the American cultural center Wednesday.

The cultural center was bombed and destroyed by fire. Police stood guard today over the blackened shell.

The unified command of the guerrilla movement has distributed leaflets calling for a general strike Friday to coincide with Sisco's arrival from Israel. Today more than 1,000 banner-waving demonstrators, escorted by armed guerrillas, marched through Amman chanting "Sisco, Sisco, go home, Sisco."

It was the third day of anti-American demonstrations in the city. The Arab guerrilla movement has denounced Sisco's visit to the Middle East, charging he is trying to impose a political settlement on the Arabs. The guerrillas oppose any peaceful settlement with Israel.

$10.3 Million Libel Suit Filed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes said his attorney filed a $10.3 million libel action against Time Inc. and reporter Denny Walsh in federal court at New York City today because of a Life article about the governor last May 2. A copy of the suit released here states that Life's publication of a story entitled "The Governor . . . and the Mobster" was false and defamatory and that the defendants knew the statements in the article concerning Rhodes were untrue.

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation granting a six per cent across-the-board pay increase for all civilian salaried employees of the federal government has been signed into law by President Nixon.

The pay boost for civil service workers and employees of the Post Office Department is retroactive to Dec. 27.

The comparable increase for military personnel is retroactive to Jan. 1 and will apply to the servicemen's total compensation that makes it roughly equivalent to an 8.1 per cent increase in basic pay.

Cost of the pay boost over a full year is expected to total $3.6 billion for 5.3 million employees.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Poets gathered at the White House Wednesday for tea with Mrs. Richard M. Nixon and two of them, asked for their fashion views, wrote this "Ode to the Mini" on the spur of the moment.

The verse contributed by Louis Untermeyer, former consultant in poetry for the Library of Congress, went:

"I think that I shall never see,
A lovelier, livelier show of knee."

And the second verse, promptly ad libbed by William Jay Smith, the present consultant in poetry at the library, went:

"And if the mini continues to fall;
I will not see a knee at all."

The occasion was a tea for eight foreign poets who are attending the International Poetry Festival at the Library of Congress.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, concerned over preserving President Nixon's slim $1.3 billion budget surplus predicted for the coming fiscal year, have proposed tax-collection speedups to bring in $1.6 billion for federal employees' wage increases.

Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy sent letters Wednesday to the House and Senate outlining the plan to accelerate collection of gift and real estate taxes.

Under the proposed plan, gift taxes would be collected every quarter instead of annually as required by law.

And payment of estimated estate taxes would have to be made seven months after a person's death instead of requiring the first payment 15 months after death under present law.

The provision would apply only to those estates valued at more than $150,000.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation set a record at mid-month by going 121 days without a single case of screwworms, the Agriculture Department announced Wednesday.

"Veterinarians with USDA's Agricultural Research Service say this is the longest screwworm-free period on record. The last confirmed case was reported Dec. 15 in Comal County, Texas."

Screwworms are the larvae of a fly which lays eggs in open wounds of livestock. The larvae can maim or kill cattle and other animals.

Two Are Charged With Violating City Ordinances

Charges have been filed in Municipal Court against two local citizens for violation of city ordinances.

Audrey Kearns was cited by Public Service Director Atwood Jones for permitting a taxicab firm to make an office at 130 1/2 W. Franklin St. without special certification.

Violation of the city's building code brought charges against Richard Hamner, owner of Hamner Roof and Sheet Metal firm. He is reported altering a structure located at 454 Watt St. without a building permit issued by the city.

Both cases will appear for hearing at a later date.

"If they did not have actual knowledge that certain of said statements were untrue," the petition states, "they nevertheless made them with reckless disregard of whether they were true or false."

all appeared to be in good shape.

The pressures and temperatures in the plumbing system looked fine," he reported. "Two of the thrusters have temperatures low enough so we'll have to heat them before pressurizing the system. But all these temperatures are going to rise when we apply some power to the command module with the batteries. The whole command module looks good," he said.

The command ship was disabled Monday night by an oxygen tank rupture in the attached service module. The accident knocked out fuel cells which would have provided long-life power. Without the cells, the moon landing had to be canceled and the astronauts turned to the lunar module supplies to keep them alive and bring them home.

Lovell, Haise and Swigert continued to ration vital oxygen, water and power as they raced closer to earth. They had ample margins in all systems to complete the flight. But they knew a sudden loss of any system would imperil them in the final hours of their abortive journey.

At midmorning they were 140,000 miles from home and accelerating as earth's gravity tugged them on an increasing speed.

By the time Apollo 13 hits the atmosphere at 400,000 feet Friday, they'll be traveling 24,623 miles an hour.

The landing site in the Pacific is about 580 miles southeast of Samoa. The carrier Iwo Jima was steaming toward the area and expected to be on station Friday morning.

A tropical storm was about 700 miles from the splashdown point, but was not expected to pose any threat.

"The entry and weather tomorrow is looking better all the time," Mission Control radioed. "Very good," replied commander Lovell.

All the astronauts slept for about six hours today as they rested for the return home.

Before re-entering the atmosphere, the astronauts must discard the powerless service module and the lunar module which has been their lifeboat.

Then they must power up the command ship on its re-entry batteries for the blazing dive back to earth, the last act in the most perilous drama in the history of space flight.

A team of Mission Control specialists has been working around the clock to perfect the highly technical procedures for bringing the spacemen back from the brink of disaster.

Astronauts on the ground were to practice the procedures in simulators here this afternoon before instructions are relayed to Apollo 13.

Nine Charged In Muny Court

Nearly $200 in fines and forfeitures were collected in Municipal Court today from local motorists.

Charged with driving while intoxicated, Herman Lines, 28, Laurelville, was found guilty of a reduced charge of reckless operation. Lines was fined $50.

Michael Conner, 20, of 201 Harrison St., and Clyde S. Congrove, 56, Kingston, each paid a $10 fine for driving an unsafe vehicle.

Forfeiting bond on speeding charges were Bonnie L. Wilson, 20, of 245 Eva Drive, $15; Harvey S. Easter, 44, of Williamsport, $24; Susan Baemel, 28, Ashville, $19 and Charles E. Selsor, 25, Lockbourne, $19.

Bryan Bevins, 73, of 451 Watt St., was fined $50 and had his driving privileges suspended for 30 days following his arrest for leaving the scene of an accident. A 30 day jail sentence was suspended by the judge.

Norman G. Leach, 317 Western Ave. and David Eakin, address unknown, were charged by deputies for public intoxication. Leach was fined $10 and Eakin forfeited $24 bond.

Egg Farm Planned Near Clarksburg

A building now being constructed near Clarksburg will house one of the largest egg producing operations in the state of Ohio.

The modern facility will house 33,000 laying hens expected to produce 17,000 eggs a day, according to Adena Enterprises, Inc., operators.

The windowless building will have rows of wire cages for the layers with temperature controlled eggroom. The building will not be heated since the hens provide their own heat in winter, but fans will be used to cool the house in summer.

The firm's officers said four layers will be placed in each individual wire cage and when eggs are laid, they will roll down a wire runway between the rows of cages. Two employees will travel through the runways to collect eggs and check electric power feeders and automatic water troughs.

Area egg consumers will continue to buy eggs elsewhere as products from the Clarksburg egg farm will be shipped to various parts of Ohio and not sold locally.

Production is expected by August 1.

Housing Patterns Change

The depressed state of the housing industry in recent years, coupled with soaring costs, has resulted in a serious housing shortage. In some cities home hunters are forced to discard their preferences and take the first vacancy available.

When longer this condition prevails, the greater emphasis will be on alternate methods of living. Mobile home sales have risen rapidly. A return to apartments is noted in many areas, and high rise apartment houses are being built to fill the need.

Perhaps the most unconventional response to the housing shortage, and one which some housing experts see as the ultimate solution, has been the growing interest in prefabricated housing techniques. And for the first time the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development is aiding the concept actively.

Operation Breakthrough has been devised by HUD to implement the concept and encourage more manufacturers to enter the prefabricated field. Phase one consists of issuing contracts to design, build and market new types of housing. Out of hundreds of firms which have submitted proposals, HUD has awarded 22 contracts.

Nor are the new style homes simply to be a low cost answer to the housing problem. While low cost and high volume are important parts of the contracts, so is the ability to produce attractive homes which buyers would readily accept.

Some of the visionaries in HUD see the housing industry evolving into something resembling the auto industry. Regardless of whether industrialized housing ever reaches that scope, the opportunities at this point look enticingly bright.

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Are you normal, too normal, or too abnormal?

These are important questions in a world in which many people are living at a pace that is out of this world. Others, trying to survive, have withdrawn so deeply within a shell that the question arises as to whether they are dwelling in a nutshell.

No one would want to submit the degree of his sanity to the judgment of a computer. Anyone who would trust a machine that far would already have to be far gone.

It is possible, however, for a person to find out for himself just how normal he is. All he has to do is answer a series of simple questions, such as:

If you found a good parking place, would you try to keep it for yourself?

Can you lose your head when all around you are losing theirs, and still manage to blame it on them?

If you are a member of the middle class, do you believe the government's present tax program is designed to squeeze that class to death?

Is it impossible for you to whistle on the way to work? Do you find it impossible to whistle on the way to work anyway?

Suppose you had a chance to be reincarnated in an after life as mouse, a college president, a barnacle, a lion or a lucky slob. Wouldn't you prefer to be a lucky slob?

If you knew of a surefire way you could steal a million dollars today and escape all prosecution except by the pangs of your own conscience, wouldn't you be a millionaire before sunset?

Doesn't it make you uncomfortable to walk behind a woman whose ankles wobble because she has run over heels?

Don't you feel cheated when you try to smell a beautiful flower and find that it has no aroma?

Have you ever cheated on your golf score, fudged on a diet, pretended to an illness you didn't have in order to escape a social obligation, and told at least one little white lie a month to your wife during the period of your marriage?

If you had it all to do over again, wouldn't you rather inherit money than have to pull yourself up by your own bootstraps?

Actually, you had more help along the way from others than you care to admit, didn't you? And you left behind you a few unpaid bills—right?

While the best friends you have live in the same block with you, the first thing you'd do if you won a $100,000 lottery prize is move to a better neighborhood— isn't that true?

Okay, now to your box score. If you answered no to more than half the questions, you are a normal liar and should get along in the world all right. If you answered yes to all of them you are an abnormal fool, too truthful to be trusted, too honest for your own good.

A MOTHER, with six obstreperous brats in tow, boarded a packed bus at the height of the rush hour. The brats immediately began screaming and tripping over angry passengers. The exasperated driver finally suggested, "Next time, lady, why don't you leave half of your obnoxious kids at home?" The mother answered grimly, "I did."

Biographer Carl Bode cites with relish an evening when President Franklin D. Roosevelt put one over on his constant critic and detractor, Henry Mencken. At a dinner party for leading journalists of the nation, Mencken led off with his usual diatribe against the President. Naturally, his remarks elicited little applause.

Then it was F.D.R.'s turn. He started attacking the press, calling them stupid, cowardly, and in general, the most depressing jackasses in the community—while the audience squirmed. Then, suddenly, F.D.R. announced that his entire speech had been lifted word for word from the works of "my old friend, Henry Mencken." "Roosevelt," concludes Carl Bode, "had outdueled Mencken with his own weapon, humor, and in his own words, at that."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

You once described how paraffin could relieve the pain of arthritis. Would you repeat how this is used?

Mr. J. U., Michigan Dear Mr. U.: Before the use of cortisone and ACTH — the steroids that are used for some forms of arthritis — paraffin was one of the few available methods to bring comfort and relief.

Ordinary paraffin, similar to the kind used to preserve jams and jellies, is purchased at the grocers. This is melted down and allowed to cool to about 150 degrees F. Care must be taken because the hot paraffin can be deceptive and cause painful burns. The outer layer of the paraffin may seem to be cool, but the underneath portion may be burning hot.

The painful hand or foot is first covered with a thin layer of mineral oil and then dipped into the paraffin. When the hand or foot is then taken out and exposed to the air, the paraffin becomes firm and covers the immersed part. This can be repeated a number of times until a heavy layer is acquired.

The basis for this effective pain reliever is that heat is retained for a long time and this is what brings the welcome relief.

Paraffin should be carefully used only with directions but never as a substitute for the advantages of some of the newer drugs.

Our premature baby has just returned home from the hospital after spending four weeks in an incubator. The relatives are of course anxious to see her and are annoyed because we insist on having no visitors. Are we unreasonable?

Mr. and Mrs. G.S.R., Maryland

Dear Mr. and Mrs. R.: When a premature baby is returned from the hospital the physicians are certain that there is no longer any special delicacy about the child. Almost always the proper weight has been attained before the child is released. Nevertheless, it is understandable that parents consider the premature child somewhat more delicate than others.

I understand the adulation and love of grandparents but I wonder if the tender, newborn infant relishes the "ooing" and cooing it receives. In addition to the cooing, it is almost impossible not to send out droplets that do carry infections and are

The Dynast In Politics

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The dynastic idea in American politics has hard sledding. Occasionally there has been a two-generation success. John Adams and his son, John Quincy, both made it to the White House, and there have been father and son La Follettes in the Senate and in the Wisconsin Governor's chair. Massachusetts has had its Lodges followed by a couple of Kennedys. But other aspiring dynasts have had indifferent success. Teddy Roosevelt Jr. could never really emulate his father, and Franklin's sons, Jimmy, Franklin Jr., and Elliott, had to be satisfied with minor offices.

Now a new Stevenson, Adlai the Third, is aiming to become a Democratic U.S. Senator from Illinois. Adlai the First was a Vice President and Adlai the Second, a successful Governor, was twice nominated for the Presidency. The name of Stevenson is supposed to be something to conjure with in Illinois, and Adlai the Third's recognition value has him starting ahead of his Republican opponent, Senator Ralph Tyler Smith, in the polls. This is despite the fact that Smith, a former Speaker of the Illinois House, who was Governor Richard Ogilvie's appointee to succeed the late Everett Dirksen, has just won a primary by a wide margin and has the benefit of being the incumbent Senator.

Adlai III wants to be a dynast, but the American people don't necessarily take to the dynastic idea. Besides, if political ancestry counts for anything, Senator Smith has a bit of dynastic blood of his own. His middle name comes from one of his ancestors, John Tyler, who happened to be the tenth President of the United States.

A few months ago the word went out in Washington that Senator Smith was not the man to fill Ev Dirksen's shoes. The conservatives were dubious about him when he indicated that he wasn't going to support Richard Nixon's choice for the Supreme Court, Judge Clement Haynsworth.

There had been a scandal in the Illinois Supreme Court, and Smith was quoted as saying that he couldn't in good conscience vote for any judge who was tainted with even a suspicion of impropriety. But, when the crunch came, Smith did vote for Haynsworth. He said he had been misquoted in the first place. In the second court go-around Smith supported Carswell.

Still, the more adamant conservatives in Illinois were grudging about accepting Smith. In the Rockford region, a conservative stronghold, they held his connection with Governor Ogilvie against him. Ogilvie had supported the state income tax, a hated measure in conservative circles.

Once again they had Smith wrong. When Senator Gore of Tennessee introduced an amendment increasing individual tax exemptions from $600 to $800, Smith pointed out what he called its fraudulent nature. For the Gore amendment would have also cut deductions to the point where individuals in the lower middle brackets would actually be paying more taxes than before. The Gore amendment was defeated. Individual deductions were left intact, and the exemption was increased by $150 over the years. Smith has proved himself no enemy of the taxpayer.

Smith is optimistic about overtaking Adlai the Third for a number of cogent reasons. To begin with, the alliance between Adlai III and Mayor Dick Daley the Democratic boss of Chicago, is a marriage of convenience, and, like all such marriages, it carries no enthusiasm with it. It would be strange if Daley's men really got out the vote for young Adlai, who has never hidden his aversion to Cook County's brand of politics. Then there is the curious fact that the Stevenson name has never really been a great vote-catcher in Illinois. Eisenhower beat Adlai the Second by a fifty-five per cent vote in 1952 and a fifty-nine per cent vote in 1956. Four years ago, Adlai the Third defeated Harris Rowe for the office of State Treasurer by a scant 50.5 per cent margin. And this, so Smith's supporters point out, was when Rowe ran out of money toward the end of his campaign. Rowe actually carried sixty-nine counties to Stevenson's thirty-three.

It's a long time to November, plenty of time to give people a chance to meditate on the fate of dynasts in American politics. If a third Adlai can make it, he will be doing something that eluded a third Adams and a third Lodge. We have yet to face third generation Kennedys and Roosevelts.

The lectures on environmental problems will continue Wednesday and Thursday night.

Hat's They'll Do It Every Time

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you normal, too normal, or too abnormal?

These are important questions in a world in which many people are living at a pace that is out of this world. Others, trying to survive, have withdrawn so deeply within a shell that the question arises as to whether they are dwelling in a nutshell.

No one would want to submit the degree of his sanity to the judgment of a computer. Anyone who would trust a machine that far would already have to be far gone.

It is possible, however, for a person to find out for himself just how normal he is. All he has to do is answer a series of simple questions, such as:

If you found a good parking place, would you try to keep it for yourself?

Can you lose your head when all around you are losing theirs, and still manage to blame it on them?

If you are a member of the middle class, do you believe the government's present tax program is designed to squeeze that class to death?

Is it impossible for you to whistle on the way to work any time written the last 10 years? Do you find it impossible to whistle on the way to work anyway?

Suppose you had a chance to be reincarnated in an after life as mouse, a college president, a barnacle, a lion or a lucky slob. Wouldn't you prefer to be a lucky slob?

If you knew of a surefire way you could steal a million dollars today and escape all prosecution except by the pangs of your own conscience, wouldn't you be a millionaire before sunset?

Doesn't it make you uncomfortable to walk behind a woman whose ankles wobble because she has run over heels?

Don't you feel cheated when you try to smell a beautiful flower and find that it has no aroma?

Have you ever cheated on your golf score, fudged on a diet, pretended to an illness you didn't have in order to escape a social obligation, and told at least one little white lie a month to your wife during the period of your marriage?

If you had it all to do over again, wouldn't you rather inherit money than have to pull yourself up by your own bootstraps?

Actually, you had more help along the way from others than you care to admit, didn't you? And you left behind you a few unpaid bills—right?

While the best friends you have live in the same block with you, the first thing you'd do if you won a $100,000 lottery prize is move to a better neighborhood—isn't that true?

Okay, now to your box score. If you answered no to more than half the questions, you are a normal liar and should get along in the world all right. If you answered yes to all of them you are an abnormal fool, too truthful to be trusted, too honest for your own good.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Observations from the world of business and finance:

—The top-ranking official in the world's most powerful Communist nation, and the top man in the largest manufacturing concern in the capitalist world, apparently share some thoughts.

In criticizing lagging labor productivity, Soviet Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev's comments sounded a bit like those of James Roche, chairman of the board of General Motors Corp.

In a television address this week to the Russian people, Brezhnev said:

"Many of our rank-and-file workers and many leading officials at time lack a heightened sense of responsibility and discipline. Some sectors of the economy fail year after year to fulfill their plan."

He demanded stiff penalties against shirkers and drunkards, and he reminded workers that each "has an interest in the improved functioning of enterprises."

In a speech several weeks ago to the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, Roche complained that worker productivity was falling badly, that absenteeism had doubled in a decade, and that the quality of work was not what it should be.

Roche said workers had a responsibility to produce quality in keeping with their demands for higher quality in the goods they buy. Like Brezhnev, he reminded workers that their efforts do indeed effect the total picture.

"Our ability to improve our standards of living depends directly on our willingness to work to create the goods and services we enjoy," Roche said.

—Boeing Co. officials are puzzled by the long lines that seem to develop near restrooms on the new 747s. The 12 facilities on most 747s were based on studies of prior usage on smaller planes. But for some reason, perhaps because they are free to roam about, 747 jumbo jet passengers seem to have changed their habits.

—After months of pleading that a misbilling be corrected, a customer said to the service representative of a large utility: "Things must be pretty confused in your billing department."

"Oh no," she replied. "We've got only 10,000 similar situations now."

Told that this appeared to be a very high figure, she stated: "A few months ago we had 40,000."

The bookkeeping and paperwork breakdown illustrated by this conversation is considered by concerned observers, businessmen included, to be the ranking scandal of American business.

It involves a broad spectrum of business. On Wall Street, some firms have actually capitulated under a confusion of paper. In many retail stores, the flood of complaints is simply ignored. Some mail order houses are immersed in troubles.

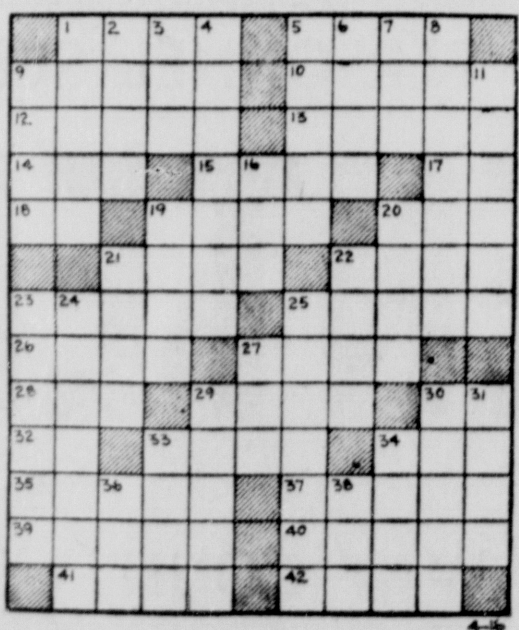

Damage greater than what can be measured in dollars and cents may be the consequence of the breakdown. Frustrated in their attempts to communicate with business, customers often find that the only response they get is a threat to their credit rating.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Too Lenient Mom, No Good

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my mother. She's too lenient! Many times after she has gotten angry and punished me, she will apologize. Why should she apologize when I know I had the punishment coming to me?

Often the punishment will be depriving me of my dessert. Then later she will come to my room bringing the dessert.

I could give hundreds of other examples, Abby, but I think you know what I mean. Please tell my why my mother acts this way? I can't figure her out.

MIXED UP IN CLEVELAND
DEAR MIXED: Your mother (like many others) fears you'll love her less because she's punished you. (She's wrong.) No child ever resented punishment he knew he had coming.

Discipline is PROOF of love. When a parent punishes a child, he is saying, "You are loved, and I am trying to teach you to behave in a socially acceptable manner because I am not going to be around forever to protect and forgive you. If you misbehave, society will not forgive you and let you go unpunished."

Children KNOW this. I wish more parents did.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a 74-year-old grandmother and an 83-year-old grandfather moving into a four room apartment to share expenses? (The apartment has two bedrooms, one bath, a kitchen and living room) They are not married and both are on social security.

Don't you think the neighbors will talk although I'm sure they aren't living together as man and wife?

How can you teach children right from wrong when "Grandma" lives in an apartment with an old man who is not "Grandpa"?

OLD FASHIONED
DEAR OLD FASHIONED: I see nothing "wrong" here. There ARE two bedrooms and they are not living as man and wife. If the neighbors "talk," they are more to be criticized than Grandma and Grandpa.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for five months and we are very much in love, and extremely happy.

There is only one thing that we constantly fight and argue about. My sister's husband! Phil can't keep his hands off me.

Our whole family is inclined to be affectionate, but Phil over does it. He always greets me with a big hug and kiss, which is all right, but it doesn't stop there. He wants to sit next to me—in preference to sitting next to his wife. He either has to have his arms around my shoulder, or my waist, or he insists on pulling me down to sit on his lap. If I try to avoid him, he comes after me. He's a big man and very forceful.

I have told him to quit, but it does no good. My sister has told him to cut it out. He ignores her. My husband has told him to stop it. He just laughs. My husband is a quiet man and doesn't want any family fights, so he's INFORMED me that we have gone to the last family party where Phil is apt to be. I am sick over this, as I love being with my family, but I can't blame my husband either. How would YOU handle this, Abby?

LITTLE ME
DEAR LITTLE: I'd certainly not let a fresh brother-in-law keep ME from enjoying the family gatherings. I'd carry an umbrella—rain or shine, and I'd greet Phil with a poke in the ribs and a warning to keep his distance. I'd not let him sit next to me, or put his hands on me. And I would use that umbrella to whack him with it if he so much as moved in my direction. After a while he'd get the idea. (P. S. If you think an umbrella would be too conspicuous on a bone-dry, sunny day in August, carry a golf club.)

Report Quake In Alaska Gulf

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — A strong earthquake occurred in the Gulf of Alaska 135 miles southeast of Cordova at 12:33 a.m. EST, the Palmer Observatory reported.

There were no reports of injury or damage.

A spokesman said the tremor's magnitude was 6.2 on the Richter scale. He said that was sufficient to cause damage in a populated area but not large enough to cause a tidal wave.

The quake was about 15 miles south of Yakutat and was felt strongly there and at Yakutat, the spokesman said.

The University of California seismographic station in Berkeley, Calif., measured the magnitude at between 6.5 and 7 on the Richter scale.

Russians Offer Recovery Help

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin told President Nixon Wednesday that his government stands ready to help rescue astronauts of Apollo 13 and dispatched two ships to the Pacific area where the splashdown is expected, Tass said.

The Soviet news agency dispatch from Moscow said the Russian ships Akademikern Rykoe Rykachev and Novopolotsk had changed course at sea and were speeding toward the Fiji Islands.

Brown Says He Has 'People Power' Working

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Republican gubernatorial candidate Paul W. Brown says he has "people power," and with that working for him he doesn't need any public relations experts.

People want crime control, elimination of drug abuse and safe streets, things he has been stressing in his campaign. Brown told 450 supporters who attended a $50 - a - plate fundraiser in Columbus Wednesday night.

"With people power, I don't need helicopters," the attorney general said in an obvious swipe at State Auditor Roger Cloud, one of his opponents for the nomination who has been using whirlbirds to campaign.

In the Senate campaign, meanwhile, Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes revived the income tax issue by releasing a public financial disclosure statement. A few hours later Rep. Robert Taft Jr., issued a similar statement.

Rhodes said his 1969 federal income tax was $12,387 on $39,890 in state pay and $956 in book royalties. He said the government owes him a $624 refund.

Taft listed adjusted gross income for 1969 from wages, stock dividends and interest on bonds and savings totaling $99,460. He said his 1969 income tax was $26,127 but he actually paid $31,351 and asked that the overpayment of $5,224 be credited to his 1970 payments.

Rhodes and Taft have tangled in recent weeks over disclosure of taxes and financial holdings.

Taft's campaign manager, John J. Kelley Jr., charged Wednesday that Rhodes' disclosure of his 1969 tax return was "meaningless" since Taft had suggested both candidates disclose tax information for all of the time they have been in public life.

He said Taft's returns for all these years are on file with a national accounting firm and will be released when Rhodes releases his.

Rhodes outlined accomplishments of his administration in the area of higher education during an address before a dental alumni group at Ohio State University Wednesday.

Since 1963, more than $600 million has been appropriated in state funds alone for construction of new facilities in higher education, more than any other state could match, he said.

Taft declared that organized crime is threatening "a takeover of many of the country's major businesses."

Touring southern Ohio, Taft called for immediate action by federal, state and local officials to combat "what has become a $50 billion-a-year business."

While Taft was in Athens, C. Stanley Meechem, southeastern Ohio GOP leader and former state legislator, announced he supported Taft and Cloud for the senate and governor nominations. He cited Taft's legislative experience and Cloud's knowledge as an administrator.

Democratic gubernatorial candidate John J. Gilligan today accused the state administration of "doing virtually nothing" in the fields of industrial safety and workmen's compensation.

In remarks prepared for delivery at a news conference in Cleveland, Gilligan said a measure is before the legislature which would have increased workmen's compensation to 75 per cent of a worker's weekly average wage. He said the administration "could long ago have pushed passage of this legislation if it had seen fit."

John H. Glenn, another Democratic candidate for governor, said Wednesday the section of the Taft-Hartley Act which allows states to outlaw the closed shop should be repealed.

He told United Auto Workers Union members in Springfield that both the union and management should negotiate from positions of equal strength.

Earlier in Painesville, Glenn said he thought the Senate had acted properly in cutting back space expenditures from $6½ billion to $3 billion "because we do have Vietnam and we do have other problems."

He said he believes this country now should "maximize research on return from space, not just flights to the moon."

Pickaway Garden Club Has Program On Bonsai

Bonsai, the Japanese method of stunting and drawing trees, was discussed and demonstrated by Mrs. Robert Keator of Gahanna at the Tuesday evening meeting of Pickaway County Garden Club. The meeting was held in the Darrell Hatfield home on Trimmer Road.

Bonsai means "plant in a pot" in Japanese. The trees which are treated in this manner are predominantly the outdoor variety. Japanese red maple, black pine and juniper are used mainly. They are shaped by wiring the trunk. Some are stylized windswept, some resembling hanging over a cliff, called cascade; semi-cascade, some have double trunks and others are upright.

Mrs. Keator illustrated with one of her stunted Peris Japonica which had a bent trunk and drooping lily of the valley blossoms. This type of Bonsai must be outdoors through the winter. It may be brought indoors for several weeks in moderate weather. It must have filtered sunlight every day and trimmed severely, to top roots, feeder roots and branches. A special pot is used which must have perfect drainage. Miniature azaleas, Jerusalem cherry, rhododendron, picea ivy and gardenias may be grown as indoor Bonsai.

Mrs. Keator demonstrated

Morning Circle Plans Projects

Morning Circle of Calvary United Methodist Church met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Edgar Anderson, Kinderhook, with 14 members and one guest present.

Program leader for the morning was Mrs. Clark Zwyer. A make believe trip to Calcutta, India, was presented. Taking part were Mrs. A. W. Goeller, Mrs. Dale DeLong, Mrs. James Salyer, Mrs. Russell Archer and Mrs. Zwyer.

Members sang "Rise Up O Men of God," followed with prayer by Mrs. Zwyer.

WCSA president, Mrs. W. C. Shasteen, conducted the business session. A cleaning day at the church was set for Friday, May 1, beginning 8:30 a.m. with sack lunches at noon.

Projects for the Philippines, including towels and baby blankets, will be worked on during the June meeting.

Members were reminded of a products party planned by Trailmakers Class on April 28 in the church annex.

July 23 is a day set to help with the Bloodmobile at Community United Methodist Church to serve lunch to staff members and donors.

The nominating committee of Mrs. Henry McCain, Mrs. Myrtle Leist and Mrs. Harry Davis will prepare a slate of officers to be voted on at the May meeting.

Members were requested to attend the meeting celebrating the union of the Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren WSCS at Westerville on May 22.

Mrs. Anderson, assisted by Mrs. Goeller, served a salad course.

planting and trimming a Procumbent Nana, six year old juniper. This variety is suitable because it has slow growth and can be trimmed in an interesting form. A soil mixture of one-third peat moss, one-third sand and one-third loam soil is used. Mrs. Keator learned this art during her three years spent in Japan. More men than women are interested in this hobby according to the speaker.

Mrs. Hatfield, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Kenneth Hannan, who judged a display of daffodils and tulips brought by members. Apollo 13 Wives Listen Anxiously To Course Shift

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Silently, anxiously, the two Apollo 13 wives listened as their husbands steered their stricken spaceship onto a homeward path.

"I was relieved it went so well," said Mary Haise after the critical burn of the tiny lunar lander engine. "But I was confident it would go well."

With the important maneuver completed, the families of James A. Lovell Jr., Fred W. Haise Jr. and John L. Swigert could relax—a little.

Mrs. Haise decided to keep her children home from school again today and said she would attend a brunch at the home of boss astronaut Donald Slayton.

With friends, relatives and other astronauts' wives Mrs. Haise and Marilyn Lovell tuned in via home television sets and NASA squawkboxes as the crew guided the ship back on course and homeward from its aborted moon landing mission.

Neither wife spoke during the critical 15-second rocket engine burn.

As house guests left the Haise and Lovell homes late Wednesday night a NASA public affairs officer said Mrs. Haise was going to bed. "She's really tired and she's starting to show it," he remarked.

Mrs. Haise is expecting her fourth child in June. She attended a luncheon Wednesday at the home of Sue Bean, wife of Apollo 12 astronaut Alan L. Bean.

Apollo 10 astronaut Thomas P. Stafford telephoned Mrs. Lovell before the rocket burn to brief her on the maneuver.

Mrs. Lovell and her daughter, Susan, 11, visited Lovell's widowed mother at nearby Friendswood Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Lovell said she made the short trip to reassure her mother-in-law that she was "confident of a safe return by the crew."

The parents of Swigert, a bachelor, have also expressed confidence that the astronauts will make it home safely. The elder Swigert is a Denver, Colo., dentist.

Shark Takes Angler For Ride

WALVIS BAY, South West Africa (AP) — Angler Nic Davin took a ride on a shark. Davin hooked the 283-pounder off a beach near here and played it into the shallows after 70 minutes. A companion waded out to gaff it, but the gaff wasn't strong enough, so Davin joined him. The shark suddenly shot between his legs and Davin found himself riding the sharp-toothed monster. Other anglers came to his aid and dragged the thrashing shark and its startled jockey to the beach.

Pickaway Garden Club Has Program On Bonsai

Bonsai, the Japanese method of stunting and drawing trees, was discussed and demonstrated by Mrs. Robert Keator of Gahanna at the Tuesday evening meeting of Pickaway County Garden Club. The meeting was held in the Darrell Hatfield home on Trimmer Road.

Bonsai means "plant in a pot" in Japanese. The trees which are treated in this manner are predominantly the outdoor variety. Japanese red maple, black pine and juniper are used mainly. They are shaped by wiring the trunk. Some are stylized windswept, some resembling hanging over a cliff, called cascade; semi-cascade, some have double trunks and others are upright.

Mrs. Keator illustrated with one of her stunted Peris Japonicas which had a bent trunk and drooping lily of the valley blossoms. This type of Bonsai must be outdoors through the winter. It may be brought indoors for several weeks in moderate weather. It must have filtered sunlight every day and trimmed severely, to top roots, feeder roots and branches. A special pot is used which must have perfect drainage. Miniature azaleas, Jerusalem cherry, rhododendron, picea ivy and gardenias may be grown as indoor Bonsai.

Mrs. Keator demonstrated

planting and trimming a Procumbent Nana, six year old juniper. This variety is suitable because it has slow growth and can be trimmed in an interesting form. A soil mixture of one-third peat moss, one-third sand and one-third loam soil is used. Mrs. Keator learned this art during her three years spent in Japan. More men than women are interested in this hobby according to the speaker.

Mrs. Hatfield, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Kenneth Hannan, who judged a display of daffodils and tulips brought by members. The points to be considered in selecting a blue ribbon winner are the condition, the form, substance and texture, color, pose (head at 45 degree angle), stem in proportion to the flower and the size of the flower.

There may be word today on when the transcript of the inquiry into the death of Mary Jo Koepchne in Kennedy's car last July 18 will be issued.

Taxpayers Vulnerable If Return Unsigned

CHICAGO, Ill. (AP) — Taxpayers forgetting to sign their federal income tax returns are vulnerable to extra penalties.

Commerce Clearing House says that is emphasized in a recent Tax Court decision which holds that a taxpayer in failing to sign his return is liable for additional charges to his tax bill.

Filing an unsigned return form does not meet the legal requirements and inadvertent failure to sign is not "reasonable cause."

Until 1942, taxpayers were required to make their returns under oath in order to qualify them as valid returns.

Although Congress did away with the oath requirement, it did nothing, the court determined, to alter the requirement that a return be signed.

House Panel Subpoenas 39 Persons In Massacre Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House panel has subpoenaed 39 military witnesses in its probe of the alleged My Lai massacre after Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor refused to allow them to testify voluntarily.

Resor told a special House armed services subcommittee he feared the investigation will prejudice the rights of defendants in the case and urged a delay until courts martial of those charged are completed.

But Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., chairman of the panel, said Congress and the public have the right to "an independent study with conclusions independently arrived at."

Among the witnesses who testified at the closed hearing Wednesday was Capt. Ernest L. Medina, who is charged with responsibility for at least 106 civilian Vietnamese deaths at the My Lai hamlet March 16, 1968.

F. Lee Bailey, Medina's attorney, accused Resor and the Army of issuing six countermanding orders Tuesday for Medina to defy his subpoena—and at one point had Medina on AWOL status—before deciding early Wednesday morning to let him testify.

Medina, along with four other soldiers who testified the first day, refused to discuss his testimony. But he said an article in the current issue of Harper's magazine is "loaded with very many inaccuracies" and said he still hopes the public will presume him innocent until proved guilty.

Cambodia Chief Mum About Viet Bodies

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — A Cambodian Army spokesman said today he knew nothing about the hundreds of Vietnamese bodies seen in the Mekong River southeast of Phnom Penh for the past two days. But he said the killing of Vietnamese civilians in Cambodia "could be considered punitive actions because of Viet Cong attacks in Cambodia."

"If Vietnamese go with the Viet Cong they must take the consequences for this is our country," Lt. Col. Kim Eng Kouroudeth told newsmen at the inauguration of regular military briefings by the leaders who overthrew Prince Norodom Sihanouk.

The colonel said Vietnamese are being rounded up for security checks, and "we will take measures against the other Vietnamese to insure they remain quiet. It is not racial, it is just a precautionary move."

Another 30 Vietnamese bodies floated this morning past the Mekong River ferry point at Neak Leung, 50 miles down the river from Phnom Penh. Like the hundreds that passed there Wednesday, the bodies had bullet wounds in several places and the hands of many were bound.

Nobody would say where the bodies came from. But foreign sources in Phnom Penh said an estimated 600 Vietnamese men had been arrested early Monday in the village of Xon Bien, near the Cambodian capital, loaded on boats and taken away.

Cambodian military sources at Neak Leung said 200 Cambodian troops were trapped on the Mekong banks farther south near the frontier, and South Vietnamese helicopter gunships, ground troops and tanks had pushed across the border in an attempt to help the Cambodian troops.

This was the first report that South Vietnamese troops are operating in that part of Cambodia, west of the Plain of Reeds. Previous cross-the-border operations have been reported in the Parrot's Beak area some 70 miles to the east.

Kopechne Notes Still Secret After Court Appeal Rejecting

BOSTON (AP) — Tangled in the courts, as it has been almost from the start, the inquest account of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's car last July 18 will be issued. The federal courts have rejected a stenographer's bid to block publication, but a Suffolk Superior Court judge has yet to rescind his order that the papers be withheld.

The free lance stenographer who sought in court the exclusive right to sell copies of the inquest record based his case on Massachusetts custom and a 71-year-old legal opinion. Sidney R. Lipman, who transcribed the proceedings which ended Jan. 8, said that only he should be permitted to reproduce and distribute copies of the record. Lipman's rate: $1.05 a page, or $802.20 a copy. Keating arranged for reproduction, including the inquest judge's report, at cost—$75 a copy. Attorneys for Lipman contended that courtroom stenographers customarily sell extra copies of such records, after providing the court with the official copy for the public record. Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis testified that he hired Lipman for the inquest and said he knew of no case in which the court stenographer was not given rights to produce and sell extra copies of court records. Keating contends that the transcript and judge's report are a matter of public record.

Suspend Use Of Viet Defoliant

WASHINGTON (AP) — After years of spraying millions of acres in Vietnam, the Pentagon is suspending war use of the controversial defoliant 2,4,5-T. Each defoliation operation had to be approved by both the government of Vietnam and the U.S. embassy.

Defense officials said it was not immediately clear whether suspension of the use of 2,4,5-T would mean a reduction in the level of spraying operations in South Vietnam. Some officials speculated that there may not be enough of other types of herbicides or defoliants in Vietnam to take up the slack.

Taxpayers Vulnerable If Return Unsigned

CHICAGO, Ill. (AP) — Taxpayers forgetting to sign their federal income tax returns are vulnerable to extra penalties.

Commerce Clearing House says that is emphasized in a recent Tax Court decision which holds that a taxpayer in failing to sign his return is liable for additional charges to his tax bill.

Filing an unsigned return form does not meet the legal requirements and inadvertent failure to sign is not "reasonable cause."

Until 1942, taxpayers were required to make their returns under oath in order to qualify them as valid returns.

Although Congress did away with the oath requirement, it did nothing, the court determined, to alter the requirement that a return be signed.

House Gets Bill To Ban Unsolicited Credit Cards

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-passed bill banning distribution of unsolicited credit cards through the mails has been shuttled to a House committee which already has indicated it frowns on the practice. The measure, hailed by sponsors as one of the most important consumer protection proposals before the current session of Congress, swept through the Senate 79 to 1 Wednesday.

Taking it over in the House is the Post Office Committee, which last month approved a bill requiring that unsolicited credit cards be sent by registered mail, thus giving the public a chance to refuse them.

The Senate-passed measure covers all creditors, including banks, retailers, oil companies and airlines. The Senate measure limits to $50 the liability of any cardholder for unauthorized use of his card by another person before he had been able to send notice of the loss or theft. It also, for the first time, makes it a federal crime for any person other than the holder to use a stolen or lost card. Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., a chief sponsor of the Senate version, called it a "potential weapon in consumer protection designed to protect the consumer from the nightmare of plastic cards which now haunts him."

He said millions of unsolicited cards now are sent out each year. Proxmire and Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H., the other main sponsor, said unsolicited cards led some persons to buy unwisely, increased personal bankruptcies, contributed heavily to price inflation, and invited theft and fraud. The Federal Trade Commission has issued an order, effective next month, prohibiting distribution of some types of the unsolicited cards. But it does not cover banks and airlines. Proxmire and McIntyre contended the FTC order thus does not remove the need for their bill. The Nixon administration at first supported legislation such as that which cleared the Senate, but then withdrew this backing. Later administration officials favored a plan under which cards could be distributed as long as a letter was sent first advising the consumer that a card would be mailed him in 45 days unless he sent word he did not want it.

Tropical Storm Dissipates No Threat To Astronauts

ABOARD USS IWO JIMA (AP) — A tropical storm in the South Pacific has dissipated and poses no threat to the troubled Apollo 13 astronauts, the space agency said today.

Tropical Storm Helen earlier appeared to be plodding toward the splashdown site southeast of Samoa but space officials in Houston and weather observers elsewhere said it had broken up.

At one point earlier in the week this ship's forecasters said the storm could have grown into a hurricane.

Helen or its side effects provided frogmen with rough weather training Wednesday on their final recovery exercise.

Swim teams worked in a driving rainstorm and said they were ready for the astronauts' return.

"We wanted a rough weather simex," said one helicopter pilot. Simex means simulated exercise.

Despite downpours that cut visibility to less than three miles at times, waves were moderate. The exercise took only about 45 minutes.

Scattered clouds at 2,000 feet and easterly winds at 15 miles per hour were predicted for Friday's splashdown. No rain was expected, a space agency spokesman said.

Waiting to give aid if needed were ships from countries around the world, including the Soviet Union.

The Russians dispatched two ships to the general target area on standby in case the spacecraft splashes down too far from Iwo Jima.

A State Department spokesman said that if assistance is needed from foreign nations, it will be sought through diplomatic channels.

Britain had put its fleet at the disposal of any rescue operations. Other ships on the alert included those of France, Italy, South Africa, Brazil, Uruguay and West Germany.

Wintry Storm Dumps Snow Across North

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A wintry storm dumped snow from Montana to Minnesota today and rain dampened most other areas of the nation's mid-section from Texas to the Great Lakes.

Heavy snow piled into parts of North Dakota and warnings of additional heavy accumulations remained in effect in the state's northwest. Minot measured 15 inches, from the current storm and from another earlier in the week.

Wind gusts of 30 to 40 miles an hour swept over the Plains and into the northern Great Lakes.

Light rain fell along a cool front from north Texas to the northern Great Lakes. Thunderstorms rumbled through the night in the lower Mississippi Valley.

Colder weather settling in behind the snow belt drove the temperature down to 16 at Butte, Mont., before daybreak.

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — It has become something of a cliché that in this age of modern medical marvels it's hard to find a doctor to treat a sore throat.

"We need 50,000 more doctors. We need 200,000 more nurses. At the present rate of training in five years we'll still be 40,000 doctors short," said Irv Drasin, a CBS News producer.

"Hospital costs have gone up 143 per cent in 10 years. Doctors' fees 50 per cent. The cost to a patient for day in a hospital is frightfully high," said Gene Deporis, another producer.

These facts, the results of months of research and interviews, will be shown in a three-part CBS Report, "Health in America," to be seen next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, at 10 p.m. EST.

One conclusion they reached, which provides the title for one part of the series: "Don't Get Sick in America."

Deporis, who produced that segment for Tuesday night, said 25 million people in this country have no medical insurance. And those who do are covered only for an average of 36 per cent of their medical bills.

Drasin, whose segment will be shown Monday, said, "This is the only industrialized nation in the Western world that does not have a national health plan. It seems reasonable to ask whether health care can continue to be a part of the free enterprise system."

This is the fourth year CBS has done a multipart documentary. In 1967 the subject was the Warren Report; in 1968 the cities; and 1969 the generation gap.

"We've found this to be a successful kind of programming because it allows us to take a massive subject and do it in depth," said Burton Benjamin, CBS News executive producer in charge.

On Tuesday night CBS took the long way around to send its Apollo 13 special report to England.

The usual route is via the Atlantic communications satellite but Spain was sending live coverage of a soccer game to Latin America.

So the Apollo coverage was routed to the Pacific satellite, down to Japan, up to the Indian Ocean satellite, then to England. It was a total of approximately 113,000 miles, according to Art Kane, assistant director of operations for CBS News. The regular distance would have been 49,000 miles.

The unseen John Bracken of NBC's "Bracken's World" will emerge from the shadows next season. He will be played by Leslie Nielsen, whose law enforcement segment of "The Bold Ones" is being canceled.

Robert Sweeney Rebel Among Democrats

By PERRY SMITH
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Robert E. Sweeney is a cocky, irascible Irishman who loves a good fight. And he's found one among fellow Democrats.

The 45-year-old former Congressman-at-large dashed all hopes of party harmony in the May 5 primary when he decided to take on all comers and the party, too.

Efforts to steer him to the attorney general's spot on the ticket didn't work.

"I've been a bridesmaid before," he snapped.

Sweeney twice ran for attorney general but both times was defeated by William B. Saxbe in the general election. Saxbe is now a U.S. Senator and out of Sweeney's hair.

In previous campaigns, Sweeney wooed and won the Cuyahoga County vote. But he still lost the election.

He's trying a new tactic this time. He's counting on his name to keep him going upstate while he hustles votes in the more conservative downstate areas.

And for a Bay Village resident who practices law in downtown Cleveland, Sweeney isn't doing badly.

A rural county chairman, announcing his support of Sweeney, said the dapper Irishman was "the only candidate who understands the problems of the farmers."

If Sweeney doesn't know where milk comes from, he surely knows how to milk the hinterlands for votes. There are a couple of flaws in his strategy.

One of them is John J. Gilligan of Cincinnati, another former Congressman who would like to be governor, and another is Mark McElroy, a fellow Cleveland and long-time Sweeney foe.

McElroy denies it, but there are those who contend he entered the primary mainly to block Sweeney's bid. They could split the Cuyahoga County vote and make Gilligan a sure winner.

But that, obviously, isn't part of Sweeney's strategy. He has been ignoring McElroy and concentrating on what he calls "extreme liberalism."

He finds an attentive audience in the small towns and rural villages where the citizens are disturbed by campus unrest, bearded hippies and the increase in crime.

And when Sweeney is fighting Gilligan, he's also taking on State Democratic Chairman Eugene (Pete) O'Grady, whom he labels Gilligan's unofficial campaign manager.

It was Sweeney, at a news conference, who waved an envelope in his hand and said it contained proof the party finance chairman O'Grady hired had a police record.

Sweeney then turned his information over to O'Grady. A few hours later, O'Grady announced the finance chairman's resignation. Sweeney's action angered a lot of party faithful but it didn't bother Sweeney.

Sweeney, however, said he took the more dramatic method of disclosure to show the ineptness of what he called "the Gilligan-O'Grady axis."

Liver Failure Felled Dr. Sam

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Sam Sheppard, who had told friends he was suffering from cancer, died from failure of the liver, the Franklin County coroner says.

In a final autopsy report Dr. Robert A. Evans said Wednesday the body of the 46-year-old osteopath showed no signs of cancer.

Sheppard, who died at home here April 6, served 10 years in prison on conviction of murdering his wife in 1954, then won a new trial and acquittal.

Airman I. C. David R. Simms, 21, was arrested Wednesday at the Wright-Patterson Air Force Base hospital and jailed here on a first-degree murder charge. Later he pleaded innocent to the charge in Fairborn Municipal Court. A pre-trial hearing was scheduled for next Thursday.

Simms is accused of the stabbing death of Nancy Pierce, 24, of Fairborn.

Bradley said the woman apparently was first assaulted sexually, then stabbed 45 - 50 times and dumped in a roadside ditch about two miles southeast of Fairborn. The body was found Saturday.

Simms was a convalescent patient on the same floor of the Air Force hospital as Lt. Walter Pierce, husband of the victim. Mrs. Simms was last seen Friday when she visited her husband, who was recovering from surgery.

Bradley said Mrs. Pierce's car was seen last Saturday night near an intersection in Fairborn. Simms, wearing civilian clothes and out of the hospital on a weekend pass, was seen walking in the vicinity and had been stopped then and questioned by Fairborn police, the sheriff said.

Simms, of Lynchburg, Va., is married and regularly stationed at Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill., as a food service specialist.

Authorities said he recently underwent surgery after suffering from severe headaches. Simms was in Wright - Patterson's medical center for observation.

Antique Hunting In Britain Is New Travel Adventure

By STEVE LIBBY
Written for Central Press and This Newspaper

ANTIQUHUNTING, long an avocation of American travelers to Britain, has inspired one British tour operator to specialize in the area. In conjunction with BOAC, Supertravel Ltd. (at 107 Walton Street, London SW3 or 2 West 45th Street, New York 10036) offers a rare seven-day package.

It's a combination tour of special interest to antique seekers and offers a "teach-in," too — a study of subjects of interest with congenial people whose interests are similar.

Most everyone will admit it doesn't make much sense to purchase English antiques in the United States, even in the bargain-basement antique shops which dot the New England highways. Taking into consideration the current low trans-Atlantic air fares, the cost of even a small investment in antiques can show a profit for the careful shopper.

In addition to the financial advantages, there's a great deal which must be said for the fun of seeking out antiques by oneself, nosing around in a host of little shops run by knowledgeable, friendly people.

At times, it's even difficult to persuade a shop-owner to part with a piece, so attached to their stock do some proprietors become. Add all these things to an unusual and rare insight into a Britain not often seen by the casual tourist, and you'll discover the antique hunting tours quite a novelty, indeed.

A prepared itinerary takes you to marvelous hotels as well as to out-of-the-way places where London dealers themselves — and they are among the wisest in the world — go to buy. You'll be given a list of shops in each area of your itinerary which are especially recommended for quality and variety of stock.

You'll be given a card which entitles you to a cash discount of 10 per cent at many of them. To top it all off, Supertravel Ltd. and BOAC have arranged for packaging, insuring, and shipping back home all your antique purchases.

A typical week in Britain takes you from London to Canterbury, to visit its cathedral and its antique shops. You'll also have an opportunity to take a look at Dover's famed White Cliffs. On the way to Brighton you'll visit Sissinghurst Castle and Penhurst Place and the Pantiles antique shops at Turnbridge Wells. At the beach resort community of Brighton you'll see the Royal Pavilion, browse through the Lanes and ride on to Chichester via Arundel. You'll spend the night in another famous antique center, Winchester.

(If the names sound typically Bostonian, remember this is the area from which so many of our antecedents hail).

Salisbury Cathedral will be a high-spot on your planned itinerary and you'll see Wilton House.

Final day of your typical week-long antique hunt takes you to Henley, Maidenhead and Bray, and on through Windsor. Extended tours are offered, embracing another week, which can include Stratford-on-Avon, Worcester, Chester, Harrogate, Lincoln and Cambridge.

The live-and-learn "teach-in" weeks or week-ends are just as dramatic. Most successful in Britain among the English during recent years, it is expected that the North American traveler will be impelled to give it a try, too.

Say Negroes Should Stay In School

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP) — Negro students would be making a "tragic mistake" if they "accept poor advice and withdraw" from Defiance College, President W. Noel Johnston said Wednesday.

He was replying to an announcement earlier in the day by the Black Accomplishments Student Association that blacks will withdraw from the college because of the administration's failure to act on 26 demands. Johnston said Defiance College's record compares favorably with any school in Ohio. He said Defiance had made a great effort to meet the special needs of nonwhites and pledged the effort would continue.

There are about 70 Negroes among Defiance's enrollment of 1,000.

Demands by the group included more black enrollment, black professors, a black coach and a voice in administration of the college.

Johnston responded by saying he would consider only requests or complaints submitted through normal channels, apparently referring to grievance procedures through the student government.

Sealy To Speak To Fee Marchers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republican gubernatorial candidate Albert Sealy, an ardent proponent of tax reform, will address a Statehouse rally Saturday of students protesting proposed fee hikes at state universities.

The rally, organized by Ohio Students for Reasonable Fees and Fair Taxes, will culminate a march from the Ohio State University campus to the Capitol.

Organizers hope to have at least 1,000 students from each of the 11 state universities participating in the demonstration. The group contends tax reform, not increased fees, is the answer to the universities' financial problems.

Antique Hunting In Britain Is New Travel Adventure

By STEVE LIBBY
Written for Central Press and This Newspaper

ANTIQUE-HUNTING, long an avocation of American travelers to Britain, has inspired one British tour operator to specialize in the area. In conjunction with BOAC, Supertravel Ltd. (at 107 Walton Street, London SW3 or 2 West 45th Street, New York 10036) offers a rare seven-day package.

It's a combination tour of special interest to antique seekers and offers a "teach-in," too — a study of subjects of interest with congenial people whose interests are similar.

Most everyone will admit it doesn't make much sense to purchase English antiques in the United States, even in the bargain-basement antique shops which dot the New England highways. Taking into consideration the current low trans-Atlantic air fares, the cost of even a small investment in antiques can show a profit for the careful shopper.

In addition to the financial advantages, there's a great deal which must be said for the fun of seeking out antiques by oneself, nosing around in a host of little shops run by knowledgeable, friendly people.

At times, it's even difficult to persuade a shop-owner to part with a piece, so attached to their stock do some proprietors become. Add all these things to an unusual and rare insight into a Britain not often seen by the casual tourist, and you'll discover the antique hunting tours quite a novelty, indeed.

A prepared itinerary takes you to marvelous hotels as well as to out-of-the-way places where London dealers themselves — and they are among the wisest in the world — go to buy. You'll be given a list of shops in each area of your itinerary which are especially recommended for quality and variety of stock.

You'll be given a card which entitles you to a cash discount of 10 per cent at many of them. To top it all off, Supertravel Ltd. and BOAC have arranged for packaging, insuring, and shipping back home all your antique purchases.

A typical week in Britain takes you from London to Canterbury, to visit its cathedral and its antique shops. You'll also have an opportunity to take a look at Dover's famed White Cliffs. On the way to Brighton you'll visit Sissinghurst Castle and Penhurst Place and the Pantiles antique shops at Turnbridge Wells. At the beach resort community of Brighton you'll see the Royal Pavilion, browse through the Lanes and ride on to Chichester via Arundel. You'll spend the night in another famous antique center, Winchester.

(If the names sound typically Bostonian, remember this is the area from which so many of our antecedents hail).

Salisbury Cathedral will be a high-spot on your planned itinerary and you'll see Wilton House.

Next day, it's on to Bath, browsing through antique shops and taking a look at the Roman baths and the Abbey before returning to Ven for the night. The following day you'll tour charming Cheltenham and Gloucester and on to Oxford to see the famous colleges, libraries — and omnipresent antique shops everywhere.

Final day of your typical week-long antique hunt takes you to Henley, Maidenhead and Bray, and on through Windsor. Extended tours are offered, embracing another week, which can include Stratford-on-Avon, Worcester, Chester, Harrogate, Lincoln and Cambridge.

Fluoridation Referendum Notices Filed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The question of fluoridating public water will be voted on in 24 Ohio communities in May and June.

Referendum petitions from the 24 communities have been filed with Secretary of State Ted W. Brown. Fifteen communities will vote in the May 5 primary elections and the other nine will make decisions at later special elections.

Three referendums are scheduled June 16, one June 17 and five on June 23.

The legislature last year passed a law ordering fluoridation of all public water supplies serving 5,000 or more persons unless local voters reject the additive.

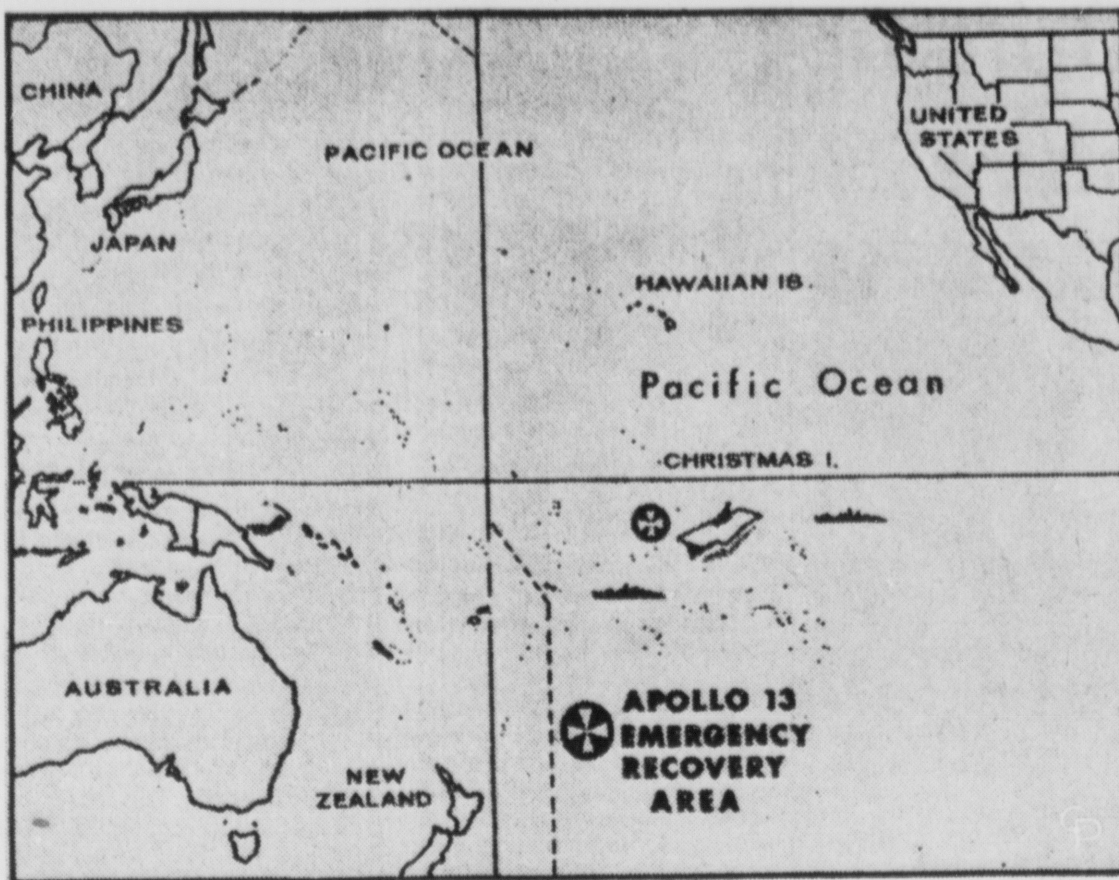

Deadline for filing referendum petitions with county boards of election passed March 17. A spokesman in Brown's office said there may be some petitions in the hands of local elections officials that have not reached Brown's office.

Communities to vote on fluoridation May 5 are:

U.S. Battle Deaths Still High As Result Of Red Offensive

SAIGON (AP) — The Communist Command's spring offensive kept American battle losses at a seven-month high for the second successive week with 141 Americans killed in action last week, the U.S. Command reported today.

The toll was three more than the number killed the week before and the highest since the week of last Sept. 1-7, when 143 died in battle.

The number of Americans wounded fell by more than half, from 1,179 the previous week to 457. The decrease was attributed to a decline in the number of rocket and mortar attacks, which had increased sharply as enemy forces began their offensive on April 1.

The Saigon government said 542 South Vietnamese troops were killed and 1,336 wounded last week, compared with 754 killed and 1,716 wounded the week before. Enemy casualties rose to 3,458 killed from 3,366 the previous week, the U.S. Command said.

In battle action Wednesday, U.S. spokesmen said, American fighter-bombers attacked North Vietnamese mortar positions inside Cambodia after a Vietnamese outpost in Chau Doc Province, in the western Mekong Delta, was hit by several rounds.

The mortar site was destroyed, the Americans said, in the sixth reported retaliatory strike into Cambodia by U.S. planes and artillery this year. The United States and South Vietnam claim an "inherent right of self defense" to attack across the border when their forces are fired on from outside Vietnam.

Allied forces reported killing 333 enemy troops Wednesday, 61 of them in three engagements involving South Vietnamese forces in the Mekong Delta. But 14 Americans were killed and 32 were wounded when a Viet Cong booby trap made from a U.S. artillery shell exploded and triggered further blasts among stockpiled mortar shells.

Eight more Americans were killed and 20 wounded in a North Vietnamese attack on a 1st Air Cavalry Division artillery base near the Cambodian border. Three other Americans were killed and seven were wounded in the downing of three helicopters by enemy fire around the besieged Dak Seang Special Forces camp.

Cleveland, Suburbs Hit By Ban On Construction

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland and 33 suburbs have been hit with a construction ban until the city authorizes contracts to prepare detailed plans on intercept sewers and submit construction schedules to the agency that imposed the ban.

The Ohio Water Pollution Control Board issued the ban here Wednesday — the first such action by the board in its 19-year history.

The board gave Cleveland until June 1 to present the contracts for preparation of the required plans. The ban prohibits the communities involved from making any additional connections to the sewage system.

Cleveland was given until Nov. 1 to submit programs and schedules for construction and completion of three interceptor sewers to lead from the suburbs to Cleveland sewage disposal plants and May 1 to obtain state approval of its detailed plans for smaller sanitary sewer projects.

Completion of the interceptor sewers was set for Jan. 1, 1973, by the pollution board and a date of July 1 was given for the start of construction on the smaller projects.

Cleveland had been given until April 1 to prepare plans and schedules for the three major intercept sewers. But city officials said the order could not be met until Cleveland and some 62 suburbs reached agreement on creation of a regional sewer system.

George Eagle, chief engineer of the Ohio Department of Health, said construction on the sewers was to have been started nearly a year ago.

The board said it would review Cleveland's case on Nov. 10.

Building freezes also were placed on Painesville and Fairport Harbor. Those communities were given until Sept. 8 to act on sewage problems — Painesville to start construction of a new sewage treatment plant and Fairport Harbor to either connect with Painesville system or start its own.

All it takes is a few warm days and dandelions start popping up everywhere. Your best bet is to be ready with Scotts TURF BUILDER PLUS-2. Put it on when dandelions start to bloom. It penetrates deep down into the roots, and that's the only way to take care of dandelions. Digging or pulling won't help — their roots grow so deep, they'll just grow back again. PLUS-2 also clears out a couple dozen other non-grass weeds. It even fertilizes at the same time, so good grass can take over where the weeds once were. This year be ready for dandelions. Fluoridation Referendum Notices Filed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The question of fluoridating public water will be voted on in 24 Ohio communities in May and June.

Referendum petitions from the 24 communities have been filed with Secretary of State Ted W. Brown. Fifteen communities will vote in the May 5 primary elections and the other nine will make decisions at later special elections.

Three referendums are scheduled June 16, one June 17 and five on June 23.

The legislature last year passed a law ordering fluoridation of all public water supplies serving 5,000 or more persons unless local voters reject the additive.

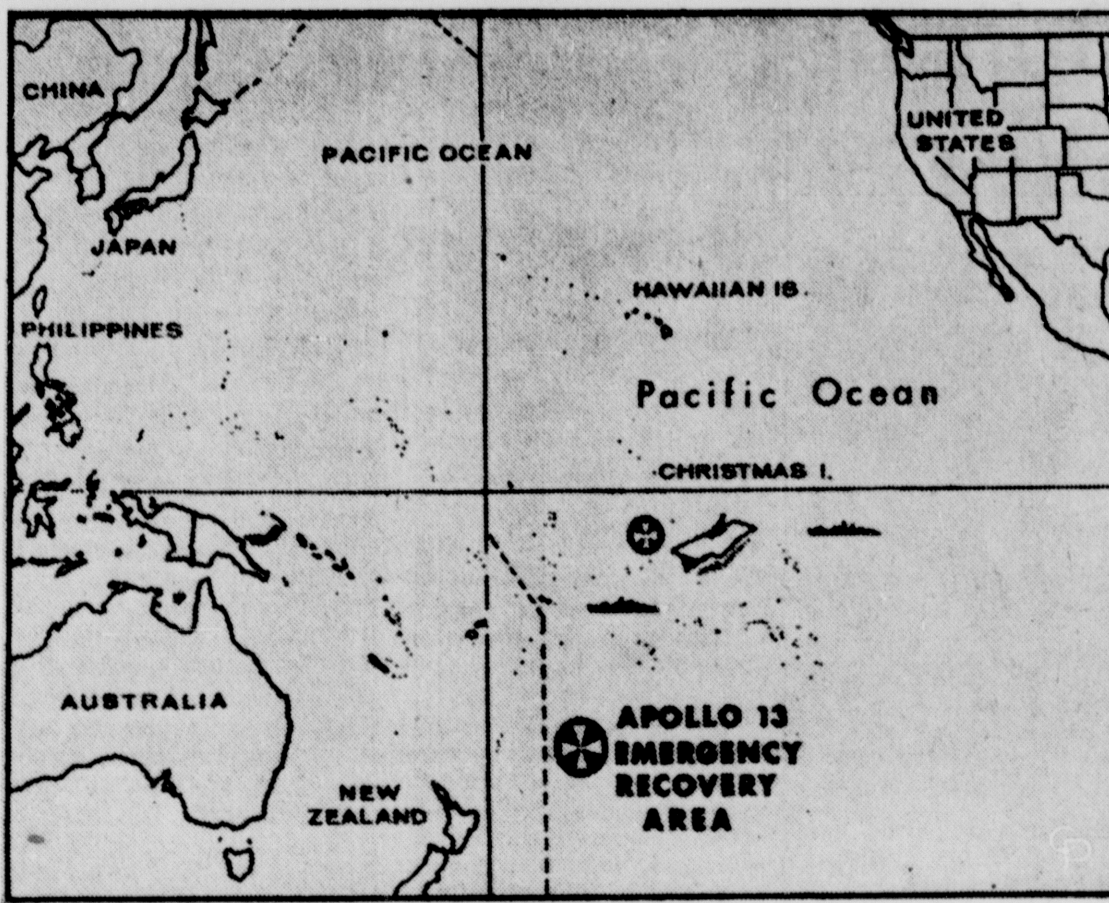

Deadline for filing referendum petitions with county boards of election passed March 17. A spokesman in Brown's office said there may be some petitions in the hands of local elections officials that have not reached Brown's office.

Communities to vote on fluoridation May 5 are:

Delaware and parts of Delaware County; Lancaster and parts of Berne, Greenfield, Hocking and Pleasant townships in Fairfield County; Mt. Vernon and Clinton, Monroe, Morris and Pleasant townships in Knox County; Bellefontaine and parts of Lake, Liberty, Jefferson and Harrison townships in Logan County;

Xenia in Greene County; Dover and Dover township, New Philadelphia, Uhrichsville and the Village of Dennison in Tuscarawas County; Troy, Concord and Staunton township in Miami County; Wooster in Wayne County; Celina and Jefferson Township in Mercer County; Fairfield in Butler County; Milford Village and Miami Township in Clermont and Hamilton Counties; Bellevue and parts of Lyme and York townships in Huron and Sandusky counties; Norwalk and Norwalk township in Huron County.

Communities to vote on the question in June are Athens in Athens County; Oxford in Butler County; Washington Court House and Union Township in

U.S. Battle Deaths Still High As Result Of Red Offensive

SAIGON (AP)—The Communist Command's spring offensive kept American battle losses at a seven-month high for the second successive week with 141 Americans killed in action last week, the U.S. Command reported today.

The toll was three more than the number killed the week before and the highest since the week of last Sept. 1-7, when 143 died in battle. The number of Americans wounded fell by more than half, from 1,179 the previous week to 457. The decrease was attributed to a decline in the number of rocket and mortar attacks, which had increased sharply as enemy forces began their offensive on April 1.

Fayette County; Lockland in Hamilton County; Urbana and parts of Urbana and Salem townships in Champaign County; Tipp City in Miami County; Middletown in Butler County; Vandalia in Montgomery County, and Oakwood in Montgomery County.

The Saigon government said 542 South Vietnamese troops were killed and 1,336 wounded last week, compared with 754 killed and 1,716 wounded the week before. Enemy casualties rose to 3,458 killed from 3,366 the previous week, the U.S. Command said.

In battle action Wednesday, U.S. spokesmen said, American fighter-bombers attacked North Vietnamese mortar positions inside Cambodia after a Vietnamese outpost in Chau Doc Province, in the western Mekong Delta, was hit by several rounds.

The mortar site was destroyed, the Americans said, in the sixth reported retaliatory strike into Cambodia by U.S. planes and artillery this year. The United States and South Vietnam claim an "inherent right of self defense" to attack across the border when their forces are fired on from outside Vietnam.

Allied forces reported killing 333 enemy troops Wednesday, 61 of them in three engagements involving South Vietnamese forces in the Mekong Delta. But 14 Americans were killed and 32 were wounded when a Viet Cong booby trap made from a U.S. artillery shell exploded and triggered further blasts among stockpiled mortar shells.

Eight more Americans were killed and 20 wounded in a North Vietnamese attack on a 1st Air Cavalry Division artillery base near the Cambodian border. Three other Americans were killed and seven were wounded in the downing of three helicopters by enemy fire around the besieged Dak Seang Special Forces camp.

Atlanta, St. Louis Winners Of NL Games

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The homer-happy Atlanta Braves have Manager Luman Harris punchy but that's nothing compared to the kayo Mike Torrez delivered over the Montreal Expos with his arm and bat.

The Braves tagged two more four-baggers Wednesday night, stretching their start of season homer streak to nine games and downing San Diego 7-5. Torrez, meanwhile, limited Montreal to an eighth inning single and stroked three of his own, leading St. Louis to a 10-0 romp over the Expos.

In other National League games Wednesday, Houston edged San Francisco 7-6 in 10 innings. Cincinnati shaded Los Angeles 3-2 and Chicago dropped Philadelphia 5-1. Pittsburgh and the New York Mets had the day off.

Washington's doubleheader at Baltimore was postponed by bad weather.

Orlando Cepeda tagged three hits including a homer and Clete Bover also hit one as the Braves continued their long-ball assault on enemy pitchers. They are four games short of matching the record for homers in consecutive games at the start of a season set by the Chicago Cubs in 1954.

It was an ordinary single by Cepeda that broke the tie against the Padres in the seventh inning. Then Bob Priddy came out of the bullpen in the ninth to nail down the victory for George Stone, who gave up two homers to Nate Colbert and one to Clarence Gaston early in the game.

"We're in a rut on home run balls," said Harris, who has seen his team hit 11 homers and his pitchers surrender 13 in the first nine games. "I've seen them hit everywhere, right, center, left, domed stadium, cow pasture, it doesn't make any difference. We must be playing with those 5-X balls."

The Braves may be using the lively ball but Torrez certainly wasn't throwing one at Montreal. The tall Cardinal right-hander gave the Expos nothing until Adolfo Phillips singled in the eighth for Montreal's only hit.

Meanwhile, Torrez cracked three singles and was involved in all of the Cardinals' scoring innings. His hit touched off a four-run third and he drove in a run in the fifth with another single. Then, he was hit by a pitch leading off the eighth and the Card wrapped up the victory with four more runs, three of them on Richie Allen's homer.

It was the 11th straight victory over two seasons for Torrez, a hard-throwing right-hander.

John Mayberry poled a pair of home runs and Houston pushed across a run in the 10th on Jim Beauchamp's single to beat San Francisco. Joe Pepitone also homered for the Astros while Willie McCovey and Dick Dietz connected for the Giants.

Mayberry's three-run shot in the eighth tied the score and then the rookie was hit by a pitch leading off the 10th and moved around to score on hits by John Edwards and Beauchamp.

Lee Trevino Set To Play At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Lee Trevino says he won't let one of his major ambitions get in the way of his quest for the top spot in the $125,000 New Orleans golf tournament.

"I want to win every time I go out," the swashbuckling Trevino said today before setting out in first round play at the Lake-wood Country Club course.

"That's what this game is all about, winning. If I didn't want to win, if I didn't think I could, I wouldn't be here."

"But one of my biggest ambitions is to win the Tournament of Champions."

"Oh, sure, I'd like to win another U.S. Open. But the Tournament of Champions is really something. I really want to win that one."

The tournament of Champions is scheduled next week in Rancho La Costa, Calif. It's restricted field of about 30 includes only tournament winners from the last 12 months.

"That's something to get excited about," Trevino said, "beating all the other champions."

Trevino is almost certain to be one of the favorites there, just as he is here.

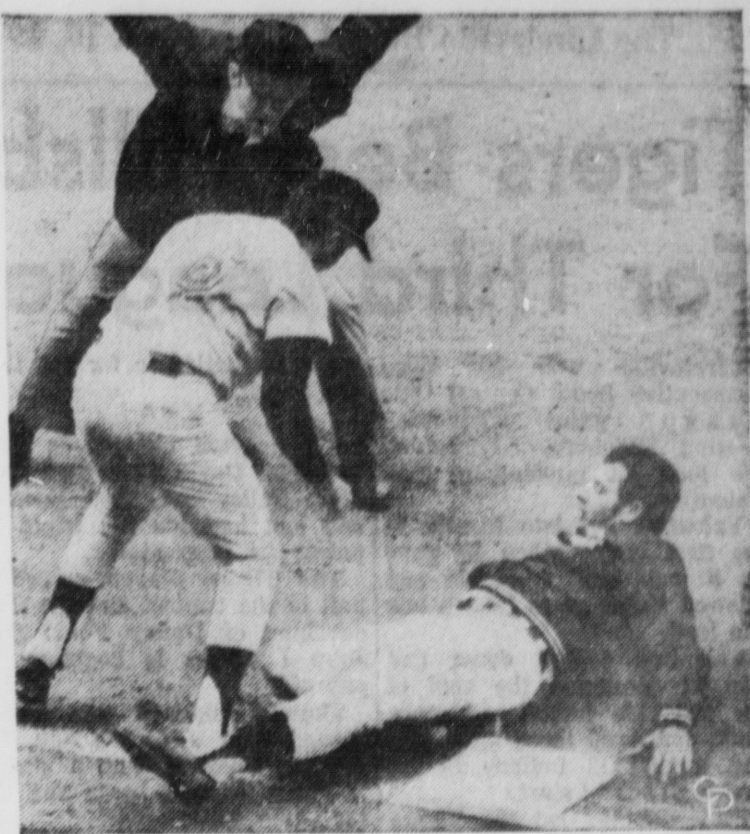

The fast-talking Mexican-American from El Paso, Tex., is off to what could be his best year on the pro tour.

The 1968 U.S. Open champion already has won over $81,000 this year, took the titles in both the Tucson and National Airlines Opens and tops the list both in money winnings and points. And he's been in contention in every tournament he's played this year.

Billy Casper, who won the 1970 Masters title, is the only other double winner of the year. Casper, also one of the leading contenders for the $25,000 first prize here, also won the Los Angeles Open.

South African Gary Player, winner of $57,000 in only five weeks on the American tour, rounded out the top three picks going into the first round.

Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus are not competing.

SLIPPING THEM A MICKEY—Pitcher Mickey Lolich, of all persons, steals a base during game with Indians in Detroit. It was a double-steal and Lolich winds up at third as Larry Brown tries to make the play. Lolich pitched all the way.

Braves Gain First Conference Win

Logan Elm powered to a 13-5 victory over Laurelville behind a 15-hit attack and the seven-hit pitching of freshman Gary Francis Wednesday on the Wildcat baseball diamond. It was the first Scioto Valley Conference win for Logan Elm.

The Braves scored single runs in each of the first three innings and then exploded for seven in the fourth, added a pair in the fifth and closed the scoring in the seventh with one.

The Wildcats were shutout the first two frames, tallied one in the third, were blanked in the fourth, scored again in the fifth, were scoreless in the sixth and notched three in the bottom of the seventh.

Francis went all the way on the mound for LE, fanning five, walking two and allowing seven hits.

RICK Fast started for Laurelville, gave up 13 hits and had no strikeouts. He was relieved by Roof in the fifth inning.

The Braves' run in the first inning came when Francis led off with a single and was then tripled home by Greg Fouch.

In the second, a walk, a fielder's choice and a single by Mike Holbrook and a second error accounted for one run.

In the top of the third LE got another run when Ken Short led off with a single and was driven home by Steve Curtis' single.

The Braves batted around the order in the big fourth inning. Francis started the 7-run attack with a triple and ended it with a single. Other hits in the inning were singles by Greg Fouch, Bob Triplehorn, Curtis, Kenny Kurtz, and Mike Holbrook.

A double by Wertz Teets and a couple of errors accounted for the two runs in the fifth inning while in the seventh a pair of walks and a double by Curtis accounted for one run.

FOR the Wildcats, the scoring began in the third inning on an error and a triple by Mike Shaw.

In the fifth, the Wildcats scored again on an error and a single by Mike Eveland. In the bottom of the seventh, two walks, an error and singles by Mike Eveland and Rutter accounted for the three runs.

Curtis was the leading hitter in the game, going three for five at the plate. He powered a triple, a double and a single. Francis blasted two singles and a triple in five trips. Fouch was two for four, including a triple and a single and Mike Holbrook hit two singles.

Mike Shaw paced the losers with a single and a triple in three trips while Mike Eveland batted out two singles in four trips.

Logan Elm has a 1-2 record in the Scioto Valley Conference and is 2-3 overall. Tonight they play a reserve game at Logan Elm with Adena and Friday the Braves host Starr-Washington in a make up tilt.

Tiger Golfers Down Fenwick

Circleville's golf team came up with its fifth win of the season Wednesday defeating the Lancaster Fenwick squad, 7-2, on the Fenwick layout.

Greg Heiskell took medalist honors with a 41 and beat Greg Spiers, 53, of Fenwick.

Mike Vaughan, 42, defeated Fenwick's Stan Schorr who shot a 52.

Circleville's Mark Frericks, 43, beat Paul McGonagle, 52.

DAVE Haradon, 56, lost a close match to John Potts who had 55.

The Tigers are now 5-5 on the season and will host Greenfield and Hillsboro Friday.

Atlanta, St. Louis Winners Of NL Games

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The homer-happy Atlanta Braves have Manager Luman Harris punchy but that's nothing compared to the kayo Mike Torrez delivered over the Montreal Expos with his arm and bat.

The Braves tagged two more four-baggers Wednesday night, stretching their start of season homer streak to nine games and downing San Diego 7-5. Torrez, meanwhile, limited Montreal to an eighth inning single and stroked three of his own, leading St. Louis to a 10-0 romp over the Expos.

In other National League games Wednesday, Houston edged San Francisco 7-6 in 10 innings. Cincinnati shaded Los Angeles 3-2 and Chicago dropped Philadelphia 5-1. Pittsburgh and the New York Mets had the day off.

Washington's doubleheader at Baltimore was postponed by bad weather.

Orlando Cepeda tagged three hits including a homer and Clete Bower also hit one as the Braves continued their long-ball assault on enemy pitchers. They are four games short of matching the record for homers in consecutive games at the start of a season set by the Chicago Cubs in 1954.

It was an ordinary single by Cepeda that broke the tie against the Padres in the seventh inning. Then Bob Priddy came out of the bullpen in the ninth to nail down the victory for George Stone, who gave up two homers to Nate Colbert and one to Clarence Gaston early in the game.

"We're in a rut on home run balls," said Harris, who has seen his team hit 11 homers and his pitchers surrender 13 in the first nine games. "I've seen them hit everywhere, right, center, left, domed stadium, cow-pasture, it doesn't make any difference. We must be playing with those 5-X balls."

The Braves may be using the lively ball but Torrez certainly wasn't throwing one at Montreal. The tall Cardinal right-hander gave the Expos nothing until Adolfo Phillips singled in the eighth for Montreal's only hit. Meanwhile, Torrez cracked three singles and was involved in all of the Cardinals' scoring innings. His hit touched off a four-run third and he drove in a run in the fifth with another single. Then, he was hit by a pitch leading off the eighth and the Card wrapped up the victory with four more runs, three of them on Richie Allen's homer.

It was the 11th straight victory over two seasons for Torrez, a hard-throwing right-hander.

John Mayberry poled a pair of home runs and Houston pushed across a run in the 10th on Jim Beauchamp's single to beat San Francisco. Joe Pepitone also homered for the Astros while Willie McCovey and Dick Dietz connected for the Giants.

Mayberry's three-run shot in the eighth tied the score and then the rookie was hit by a pitch leading off the 10th and moved around to score on hits by John Edwards and Beauchamp. Joe Pepitone also

Lee Trevino Set To Play At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Lee Trevino says he won't let one of his major ambitions get in the way of his quest for the top spot in the $125,000 New Orleans golf tournament.

"I want to win every time I go out," the swashbuckling Trevino said today before setting out in first round play at the Lake-wood Country Club course.

"That's what this game is all about, winning. If I didn't want to win, if I didn't think I could, I wouldn't be here."

"But one of my biggest ambitions is to win the Tournament of Champions."

"Oh, sure, I'd like to win another U.S. Open. But the Tournament of Champions is really something. I really want to win that one."

The tournament of Champions is scheduled next week in Rancho La Costa, Calif. It's restricted field of about 30 includes only tournament winners from the last 12 months.

"That's something to get excited about," Trevino said, "beating all the other champions."

Trevino is almost certain to be one of the favorites there, just as he is here.

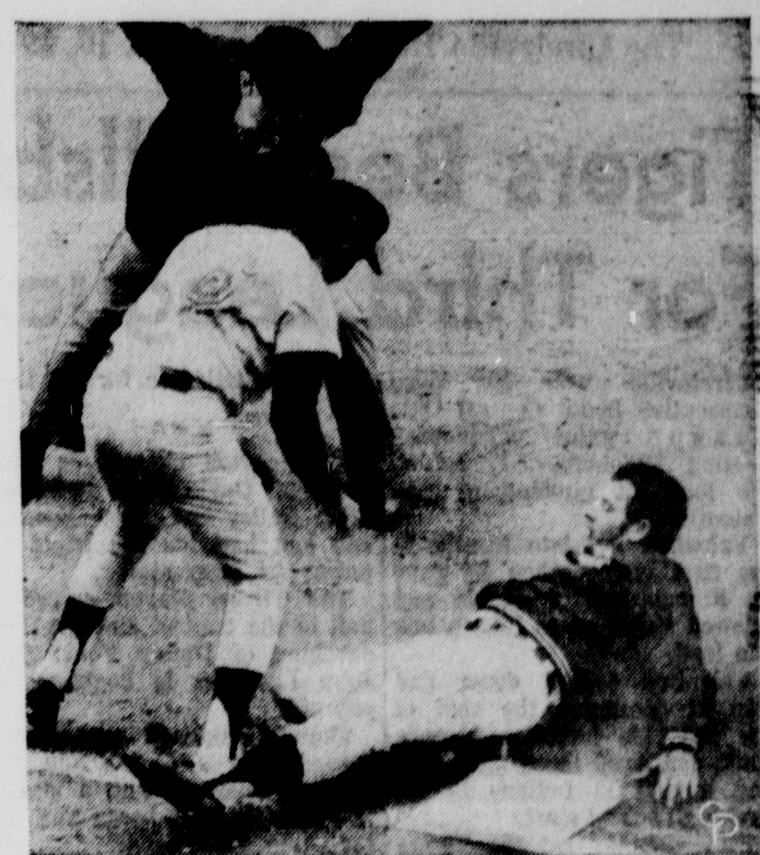

The fast-talking Mexican-American from El Paso, Tex., is off to what could be his best year on the pro tour.

The 1968 U.S. Open champion already has won over $84,000 this year, took the titles in both the Tucson and National Airlines Opens and tops the list both in money winnings and points. And he's been in contention in every tournament he's played this year.

Billy Casper, who won the 1970 Masters title, is the only other double winner of the year. Casper, also one of the leading contenders for the $25,000 first prize here, also won the Los Angeles Open.

South African Gary Player, winner of $57,000 in only five weeks on the American tour, rounded out the top three picks going into the first round.

Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus are not competing.

SLIPPING THEM A MICKEY—Pitcher Mickey Lolich, of all persons, steals a base during game with Indians in Detroit. It was a double-steal and Lolich winds up at third as Larry Brown tries to make the play. Lolich pitched all the way.

Braves Gain First Conference Win

Logan Elm powered to a 13-5 victory over Laurelville behind a 15-hit attack and the seven-hit pitching of freshman Gary Francis Wednesday on the Wildcat baseball diamond. It was the first Scioto Valley Conference win for Logan Elm.

The Braves scored single runs in each of the first three innings and then exploded for seven in the fourth, added a pair in the fifth and closed the scoring in the seventh with one.

The Wildcats were shutout the first two frames, tallied one in the third, were blanked in the fourth, scored again in the fifth, were scoreless in the sixth and notched three in the bottom of the seventh.

Francis went all the way on the mound for L.E. fanning five, walking two and allowing seven hits.

RICK Fast started for Laurelville, gave up 13 hits and had no strikeouts. He was relieved by Roof in the fifth inning.

The Braves' run in the first inning came when Francis led off with a single and was then tripled home by Greg Fouch.

In the second, a walk, a fielder's choice and a single by Mike Holbrook and a second error accounted for one run.

In the top of the third L.E. got another run when Ken Short led off with a single and was driven home by Steve Curtis' single.

The Braves batted around the order in the big fourth inning. Francis started the 7-run attack with a triple and ended it with a single. Other hits in the inning were singles by Greg Fouch, Bob Triplehorn, Curtis, Kenny Kurtz, and Mike Holbrook.

A double by Vertie Teets and a couple of errors accounted for the two runs in the fifth inning while in the seventh a pair of walks and a double by Curtis accounted for one run.

FOR the Wildcats, the scoring began in the third inning on an error and a triple by Mike Shaw.

In the fifth, the Wildcats scored again on an error and a single by Mike Eveland. In the bottom of the seventh, two walks, an error and singles by Mike Eveland and Rutter accounted for the three runs.

Curtis was the leading hitter in the game, going three for five at the plate. He powered a triple, a double and a single. Francis blasted two singles and a triple in five trips. Fouch was two for four, including a triple and a single and Mike Holbrook hit two singles.

Mike Shaw paced the losers with a single and a triple in three trips while Mike Eveland batted out two singles in four trips.

Logan Elm has a 1-2 record in the Scioto Valley Conference and is 2-3 overall. Tonight they play a reserve game at Logan Elm with Adena and Friday the Braves host Starr-Washington in a make up tilt.

Tiger Golfers Down Fenwick

Circleville's golf team came up with its fifth win of the season Wednesday defeating the Lancaster Fenwick squad, 7-2, on the Fenwick layout.

Mike Vaughan, 42, defeated Fenwick's Stan Schorr who shot a 52.

Circleville's Mark Frericks, 43, beat Paul McGonagle, 52.

DAVE Haradon, 56, lost a close match to John Potts who had 55.

The Tigers are now 5-5 on the season and will host Greenfield and Hillsboro Friday.

Jim Ard Signs Pact With New York Nets

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Ard, a 6-foot-8 center from Cincinnati, spurned the National Basketball Association team that drafted him in the first round and signed with an American Basketball Association team that picked him third.

Tigers Best Hillsboro For Third League Win

Circleville won its third consecutive South Central Ohio League game Wednesday beating Hillsboro, 5-1, behind the four hit pitching of Don Valentine.

Valentine got into trouble in the first inning when he gave up a walk and a double and allowed Hillsboro to take a one run lead.

Valentine settled down and was in command the rest of the way. He issued one more walk, scattered three more hits and fanned 13 Indians in his first high school start.

Billy Thomas led the Tigers at the plate with two big doubles and Harold Smith had two runs batted in for the Red and Black.

TY Ankrom chipped in with two hits, Doyle Kiser had one, Mike Fuller one, Tom Bowers one and had his big triple to power the Tiger attack.

The Tigers played errorless ball in the contest and the fine coaching of Danny Fouts and John Lawhorn is beginning to pay off.

Thomas opened the Tiger second with a double and Ty Ankrom followed with a single to chase Thomas home and tie the game, 1-1.

Ankrom proceeded to steal second and Smith came through with a big triple to plate Ankrom. Valentine walked, Bowers scored Smith with a sacrifice fly and Valentine scored on an error to give the Tigers a 4-1 lead at the end of two.

Circleville added the final run in the third when Thomas was safe on an error, reached third on another Hillsboro miscue and scored on a fielders choice by Smith.

"We are getting timely hits, good defense and solid pitching," Coach Fouts offered. "Next week is a big one for us as we host Greenfield on Monday and travel to Wilmington Wednesday."

HAROLD SMITH injured his ankle sliding into a base but is expected to be ready by next week.

Circleville is now 4-1 overall and 3-0 in league play.

Westfall '9' Edged By Pike-ton, 3-2

Westfall was edged by Pike-ton, 3-2, in a Scioto Valley Conference game Wednesday played on the Redstreaks' field.

The loss leaves the defending champions of the SVC with a 2-2-1 record.

All of Pike-ton's runs were unearned and came in the fifth inning. With one out, Wheeler was safe on an error and then advanced to second on a sacrifice. Whicham singled, scoring Wheeler. Whicham then stole second and Cobb was walked.

The Redstreaks tried a double steal and the throw to third to pick off the lead runner soared over the head of the third baseman into left field, allowing both baserunners to come home.

Westfall score one run in the first inning when Larry Harris singled, advanced to second on an error and to third on another error. Mike Sines singled to drive Harris across the plate.

In the sixth inning Doug McKay hit a homerun for the Mustangs.

Randy Alkire started for Westfall and pitched to only one man, walking him. He was relieved because of a sore arm by Greg Bigam, who finished the game.

Bigam struck out nine, walked two and allowed two hits. McGuire was the winning pitcher. Going all seven innings for Pike-ton, he fanned three, walked one and allowed six hits.

Westfall plays at Teays Valley Friday.

White Sox Blank Oakland A's, 7-0

By TOM SALADINO

Gerald Janeski, a scholarly Chicago White Sox rookie who enjoys flying kites as a hobby, did a job on Oakland in grounding the hard-hitting A's on a masterful pitching performance.

The 23-year-old right-hander, obtained from the Boston Red Sox in spring training as a replacement in the Gary Peters deal, stifled the A's Wednesday night for his second straight major league victory and first complete game.

Janeski, a 6-foot-4, 200-pounder, scattered three hits and only walked one while striking out two in the White Sox' 7-0 blanking of the A's. Janeski, 15-10 with Louisville of the American Association last year, owns two of Chicago's three victories this season.

In the only other scheduled American League games, Minnesota tripped California 8-2 and Boston stopped New York 6-2. The Washington at Baltimore two-night doubleheader was postponed by bad weather.

Janeski, two days shy of his 24th birthday, beat Milwaukee last Friday in his major league debut.

Wednesday night, the rookie, who says he read about 30 books last year at Louisville and intends to make it 40 this year, got long-ball support from the bats of John Matias, Buddy Bradford and Les Josephson, who each slammed homers, and from a two-run double by Carlos May.

Roberto Pena stroked two of the hits off Janeski—a double in the third inning and a single in the eighth—and Rick Monday had a ninth-inning single.

Janeski, a sinker baller, impressed Manager Don Gutteridge in three spring outings. "I think we've got a pitcher there," Gutteridge said of his kite-flying youngster. "The more I see of him the more I like him."

Janeski figures he got a break when the White Sox obtained him from Boston and the California State College student means to make the most of it. However, he misses former teammate Billy Conigliaro, now with the Red Sox. Conigliaro was his kite flying partner.

"Some people see you flying a kite and they think you're crazy," Janeski says. But who says you can't fly a kite And anyway, Chicago should be good kite flying territory." Unbeaten Minnesota, held to one hit through five innings, exploded for eight runs in the sixth off Angels' loser Andy Messersmith. The big inning was keyed by Brant Alyea's grand slam homer, his third blast of the year and 11th run batted in.

The Twins, winning for the fourth time, also got homers from Leo Cardenas and Cesar Tovar. Jay Johnstone connected for the Angels, who lost for the second straight time after five straight triumphs.

Jim Lonborg cracked his second major league home run and checked the Yankees with late relief help from Sparky Lyle in Boston's easy victory.

Lonborg had a three-hit shut-out for seven innings before tiring and giving up both Yanks runs.

The Red Sox took a 2-0 edge in the first inning on Carl Yastrzemski's run-scoring single and a sacrifice fly by George Scott and increased it on Gerry Moses' scoring single and RBIs by Yastrzemski and Rico Petrocelli before Lonborg's sixth inning homer.

Chance To Pitch For Tribe Against Detroit's Wilson

DETROIT (AP) — "Negative momentum" is how Cleveland Indians pitching coach Cot Deal describes the ailing Tribe mound staff, adding that "they're all trying too hard not to do something wrong."

"This thing is like a virus," Deal said Wednesday. "All we can do is let it run its course and hope it doesn't last too long."

The Indians were off Wednesday, but Dean Chance (1-0) pitches today for the Tribe against Detroit's Earl Wilson (0-2). Detroit holds a 4-3 early season mark, compared to the Indians' 2-5 record, good for a piece of the basement along with New York.

"I'm concerned, of course, but I'm not worried because I know what they can do," Deal said about the pitching staff that has an even 6.00 earned run average.

"With the exception of Rich Hand, all our pitchers have proved themselves up here, and Rich did it in spring training. So you know it's a temporary thing — like a hitter being in a slump.

"The problem is mostly mental. This is something that developed since the opener (when Mike Paul, Dennis Higgins and Bob Miller failed to bail Sam McDowell out of trouble and aided in giving Baltimore the East Division lead).

"I guess you'd call it negative momentum and the more everybody thinks about it, the worse it gets. Then the approach becomes a defensive one, rather than an offensive one."

"It's because of what happened to this team last year," said

Higgins, who came to Cleveland in a trade with Washington. "Everybody remembers that start and every time something goes wrong, they say, 'Yeah, just like 1969. They're still the same. Haven't changed a bit.'"

"But that's not the case," continued Higgins, who says the whole situation is being blown out of proportion. "If, for example, the Orioles pitchers have some trouble, nobody gets worried. It's just one of those things and it's going to be all right."

Statistically, however, the Indians have been pretty bad. They have given up 52 walks in 63 innings, including five forced runs. The mound staff also has surrendered 42 runs and 61 hits and have struck out 51 batters.

All this with a team batting just .190.

Tom Frericks Breaks Record

Tom Frericks of the Circleville freshman track squad set a new record in the discus Wednesday competing in a meet with Lancaster Ewing.

Frericks came up with a toss of 153 feet 3 1/2 inches breaking all freshmen records and bettering the Circleville High School record of 144 feet 3 inches.

He also threw the shot a distance of 53 feet 1 1/2 inches.

A FINE THING—Richie Guerin, coach of the Atlanta Hawks of the NBA, has been fined $1,000 by Commissioner Walter Kennedy after Guerin had threatened "there will be a lot of blood spilled on that floor if the officiating follows the pattern" set in their opening playoff game with the L.A. Lakers.

A BIT FLIPPANT—Space shot by Billy Casella of Weirton, W. Va., is caught by the camera at a 25-lap feature race at Williams Grove, Pa. Casella was not injured.

Reds Hold Hex Over L.A.; Turn Back Dodgers, 3-2

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds continue to hold a hex over the Los Angeles Dodgers thanks to respectable pitching Wednesday night and an outstanding catch by Tommy Helms.

"Tommy played a super game," Jim Merritt said after Helms' stabbed Jim Lefebvre's liner with two outs and a man on third to end the game as the Reds held on to win 3-2. "I especially liked that last catch."

Merritt, 2-1, sailed into the ninth inning with a four hit shut-out but Andy Kosko belted a two-run homer with two outs and Wes Parker doubled. Then Clay Carroll relieved Merritt, balked Parker to third and Lefebvre lined out.

"This was the kind of game I like to pitch although I wasn't as sharp as I would like to have been," said Merritt who did not walk a man.

The victory was Cincinnati's fourth in four games with the Dodgers this year and was the Reds' eighth straight over them counting four games at the end of 1969.

Luckless Claude Osteen was tagged with his third loss of the season. His teammates have now failed to score a run for him in 22 innings he has pitched. He was relieved in the eighth.

"Osteen deserved a better fate although I have seen him sharper," Dodger Manager Walter Alston said.

The Reds erupted for three runs in the third inning on Helms' run-scoring double and a two-run single by Bobby Tola who cracked a grand slam home run Tuesday night to help Cincinnati down San Diego 6-1.

Osteen probably could have escaped the inning without a run being scored if catcher Jeff Torborg had elected to try to throw out Merritt on a sacrifice bunt instead of attempting to nail Hal McRae on a force out at second.

McRae opened the inning with a single. One out later Merritt bunted and McRae moved to third as Torborg overthrew second base. Pete Rose hit himself with his own batted ball and was declared out. Hence the inning would have ended if Torborg had thrown out Merritt. But then Helms and Tolan followed with their hits.

Alston said that he thought the error "hurt but those things happen. That's about it, and we got started on Merritt too late."

The Dodgers will have another try at the Reds here tonight in the final encounter of their two-game series.

Cincinnati Royals Sign Nate Archibald

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Association signed their No. 2 draft choice to a three-year contract Wednesday.

The Royals gave Nate Archibald of the University of Texas at El Paso "a very good sum," according to Ambrose Lindhorst, the team's legal counsel.

"Archibald's contract is as good as many of the first-round choices," he added.

NHL Playoff Continues On The Road

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Boston and St. Louis, each with a 3-2 series leads, try to wrap up play-off quarter-finals tonight but the home ice advantage has prevailed in both series and the Bruins and the Blues are both on the road.

If the trend continues, however, that means New York and Minnesota will triumph, sending each series into a seventh and deciding game.

Boston and New York have already piled up a Stanley Cup record of 346 minutes in penalties, the bulk in their first four games.

The Bruins won the first two games in Boston Garden with the Rangers bouncing back to even the series with two victories in Madison Square Garden. In the fifth game, Tuesday night at Boston, the Bruins rallied on a pair of third-period goals by Phil Esposito for a 3-2 decision. Magnificent Bobby Orr and Esposito, the Bruins' 1-2 punch throughout the season, have been Boston's mainstays in the playoffs.

For the Rangers, tonight's three periods will be the most critical ones they've faced all season long—even more so than the regular season game in which they clinched fourth place and a playoff berth in the East Division.

AIMING FOR INDIANAPOLIS — After touring the new Ontario, Calif., Speedway, under construction, Mario Andretti talks with owner Andy Granatelli in the new STP race car. Mario will drive in the 500-mile at Indianapolis, which he won last year. Andretti drove the car at a 150 mph average, 1969 tags.

Computer Delays New Ohio Plates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A computer foulup in the Bureau of Motor Vehicles' left hundreds of Ohioans with a lot of explaining to do today, the first day that display of 1970 license plates was required.

The truckers strike contributed to the problem. Homer Hall Jr., administrative assistant in the OBMV, said the bureau has been flooded with calls from people who ordered and paid for special auto tag numbers but haven't received the plates yet.

Hall blamed part of the mix-up on a computer that was not programmed with new addresses for plateowners who had moved. Only motorists whose plates bear numbers followed by letters got caught in the foulup.

He suspects other tags which haven't reached their destinations are stranded in trucks which haven't been unloaded because of the Teamsters strike.

Hall said the bureau was sending telegrams to affected motorists to help them explain to law officers why their cars still wear the blue-and-white 1969 tags.

Chance To Pitch For Tribe Against Detroit's Wilson

DETROIT (AP) — "Negative momentum" is how Cleveland Indians pitching coach Cot Deal describes the ailing Tribe mound staff, adding that "they're all trying too hard not to do something wrong."

"This thing is like a virus," Deal said Wednesday. "All we can do is let it run its course and hope it doesn't last too long."

The Indians were off Wednesday, but Dean Chance (1-0) pitches today for the Tribe against Detroit's Earl Wilson (0-2). Detroit holds a 4-3 early season mark, compared to the Indians' 2-5 record, good for a piece of the basement along with New York.

"I'm concerned of course, but I'm not worried because I know what they can do," Deal said about the pitching staff that has an even 6.00 earned run average.

"With the exception of Rich Hand, all our pitchers have proved themselves up here, and Rich did it in spring training. So you know it's a temporary thing — like a hitter being in a slump."

"The problem is mostly mental. This is something that developed since the opener (when Mike Paul, Dennis Higgins and Bob Miller failed to bail Sam McDowell out of trouble and aided in giving Baltimore the East Division lead).

"I guess you'd call it the negative momentum and the more everybody thinks about it, the worse it gets. Then the approach becomes a defensive one, rather than an offensive one."

"It's because of what happened to this team last year," said

Higgins, who came to Cleveland in a trade with Washington. "Everybody remembers that start and every time something goes wrong, they say, 'Yeah, just like 1969. They're still the same. Haven't changed a bit.'"

"But that's not the case," continued Higgins, who says the whole situation is being blown out of proportion. "If, for example, the Orioles pitchers have some trouble, nobody gets worried. It's just one of those things and it's going to be all right."

Statistically, however, the Indians have been pretty bad. They have given up 52 walks in 63 innings, including five forced runs. The mound staff also has surrendered 42 runs and 61 hits and have struck out 51 batters.

All this with a team batting just .190.

Tom Frericks Breaks Record

Tom Frericks of the Circleville freshman track squad set a new record in the discus Wednesday competing in a meet with Lancaster Ewing.

Frericks came up with a toss of 153 feet 3 1/2 inches breaking all freshmen records and bettering the Circleville High School record of 144 feet 3 inches.

He also threw the shot a distance of 53 feet 1 1/2 inches.

Chill Of Space Creeps Into Apollo Spacecraft

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Temperatures were near freezing in the Apollo spacecraft today. It was uncomfortable for the astronauts but the cold was not expected to harm them or cause further damage to their disabled craft.

The command ship Odyssey has been slowly chilling since the astronauts shut off the power to save electricity after Apollo 13's emergency developed Monday night.

Apollo 13 commander James A. Lovell Jr. noticed it first.

He awoke shivering out of a deep sleep in the darkness of the command module Tuesday.

Superb insulation kept the command ship fairly warm for more than a day, but then the supercold of space, where the temperature of objects shaded from the sun may drop to minus 250 degrees Fahrenheit, began creeping into the craft.

To astronaut John L. Swigert Jr. it was cold indeed.

"I don't know if we'll be able to sleep up there tonight," he said. "It must be 35 or 40 degrees."

"At the time he said that," said an official who was in Mission Control, "temperature in the cabin was actually 52 degrees. But I'm sure it felt like 35 or 40 to him."

The temperature in the lunar module cabin was not much better—it read 60 degrees at the time. It later rose three degrees, but was still far from comfortable.

The crew told the ground they were going to don extra pairs of coveralls and an official said they also had extra "long john" underwear.

Officials said temperatures in the command module—which is now used only as a bedroom by the spacemen—may drop as low as 40 degrees.

If it becomes this severe, the astronauts could put on their insulated pressure suits.

While the cabin grew frosty, equipment and electronics gear between the cabin wall and the outside spacecraft skin was subjected to bitter cold.

"Toward the end of the mission, we'll see a freeze in the lunar module descent stage and in the service module," said flight director Gerald Griffin, but he added that this would present no problems.

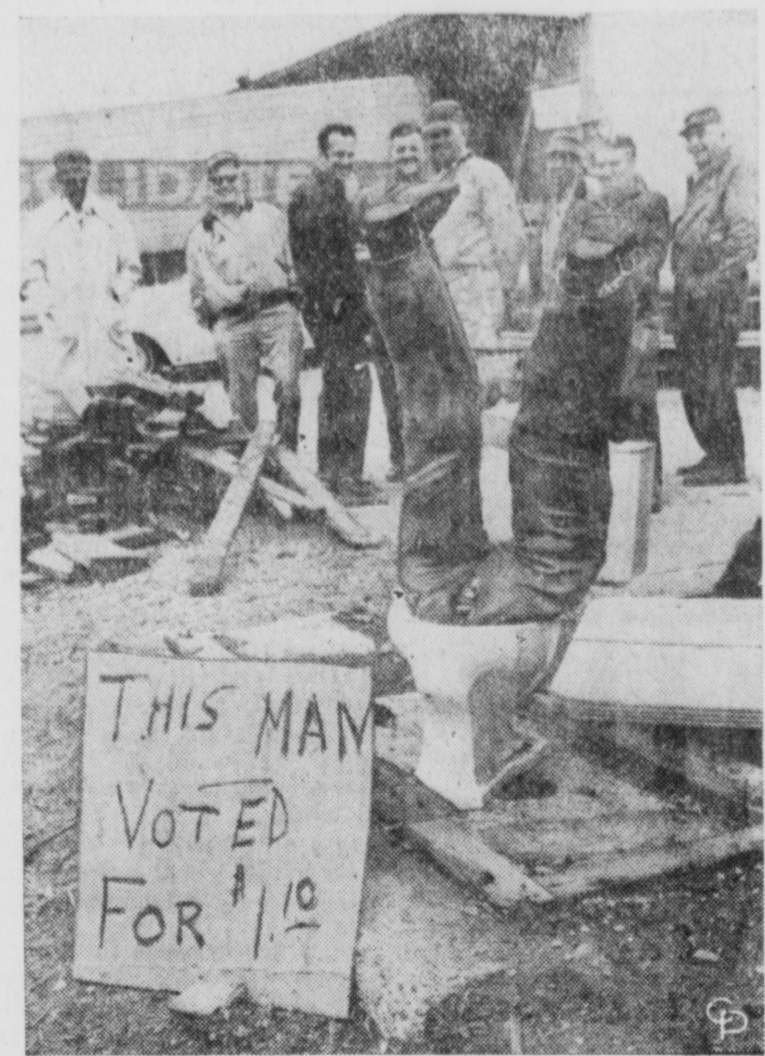

"I don't expect any temperatures close to freezing" for the command module equipment, he said.

Flight controllers powered up the command module briefly Wednesday to check the systems and found all of them working.

Critical components of the command ship were punished in temperatures down to minus 20 degrees when it was being built.

The most delicate of the instruments, the guidance system, was put through this test and lost accuracy of only a few tenths of one degree.

To keep equipment from getting colder than the tested minus 20 degrees, the spacecraft are rolled so that all sides are evenly exposed to sunlight, which is very intense in space.

THE SCENE is self-explanatory in this St. Louis photo. All you need to know is they are striking Teamsters of Local 600. Tens of thousands of layoffs over the country have resulted from Teamster walkouts—lack of supplies.

U.S., Russia Open Meeting On Arms Limits

VIENNA (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union opened talks today to see if they can check the nuclear arms race. President Nixon told the Russians he hopes the nuclear missile arsenals of the superpowers can be first limited and then reduced.

The two delegations opened the substantive round of the strategic arms limitation talks —SALT— at a ceremony in the ornate, historic Belvedere Palace. They had arranged the negotiations at a preliminary round in Helsinki during the winter.

Chief U.S. Delegate Gerard Smith read a message from Nixon pledging his "firm commitment to the search for an early, equitable, verifiable agreement." The President said he had given Smith "authority to approach the issue in the most comprehensive manner."

Nixon said he hoped the Soviet Union would "carry into the Vienna meetings the same determination to bring about a mutually acceptable agreement."

Deputy Foreign Minister Vladimir Semenov, head of the Soviet delegation, said his government "would welcome a reasonable accommodation in this sphere and in any case will do its best for these negotiations to be useful."

Semenov said the Soviet Union favors peace but intensification of the strategic arms race "serves the interests of aggressive imperialist circles," a Communist term usually applied to the United States.

The talks are expected to continue for three months in Vienna, then move to Helsinki after a summer pause. Both sides have indicated no agreement is expected for months and perhaps for years.

Business Briefs

G. C. Murphy Company's 1970 first quarter earnings of 14 cents per share, an increase of 56 per cent, were announced by Edgar L. Paxton, president, at the firm's annual meeting of shareholders held April 14 in McKeesport, Pa.

Sales for the quarter increased 13.2 per cent over the same period for 1969. In announcing improved 1970 first quarter earnings, Paxton said part of the gain could be attributed to an earlier Easter.

Sales of PPG Industries for the first quarter of 1970 were $263,102,000, a decline of about three per cent from record sales of $271,501,000 in 1969.

Earnings for the period were $7,367,000 or 36 cents per share, compared with earnings of $12,508,000 or 61 cents per share a year earlier.

Board Chairman Robinson F. Barker attributed the decline to a slackening in major market areas, especially transportation and construction, caused by government measures to slow the economy; inflation, which has increased the costs of doing business; a severe winter, which delayed completion of many major glazing projects.

Gerald Barnett Promoted By General Tele

Gerald W. Barnett, 112 Kimberly Place, has been named plant supervisor for construction in the Jackson exchange of General Telephone Co. of Ohio.

The new supervisor will begin his duties April 19, according to Reese E. Lloyd, Jackson area plant supervisor.

Barnett has been a cable splicer at the Circleville exchange. He joined General as an installer-repairman at Ashville in 1966.

Cancer Crusade Has Triple Aim

Ted Williams, chairman, has announced that the 1970 educational and fund-raising Crusade of the American Cancer Society is currently in progress in Pickaway County.

"We're out to tell people that it's what they don't know about cancer that can hurt. We mean to instruct them in personal ways of protecting themselves against cancer," he said. "We'll be marshalling the efforts of volunteers in Pickaway County to bring home the message — 'Fight cancer with a checkup and a check.'"

"We have a triple aim this April," Williams explained. "First, we want to encourage every member of the community to have a regular health checkup, including cancer tests. Examples of these tests are the Pap test for early detection of uterine cancer, and the procto, an examination for a common cancer, cancer of the bowel."

"Second, we hope to teach people protective measures against cancer. By that we mean personal action, for example the use of caution in the sun to avoid skin cancer. Another example is quite famous — an end to cigarette smoking to prevent lung cancer."

"Third, we must raise the money to support vital ACS programs of research, education and service to cancer patients. We look to the laboratories for the final solution to the cancer problem. Today there are 1.5 million Americans alive and cured of cancer. What tomorrow may bring depends on the imagination and expertise of scientists and the support of us all."

Motorist Hurt In 2-Car Wreck

Gary Costlow, 18, Ashville, sustained a cut on his forehead in a two car collision at the intersection of Franklin and Washington Streets 7:07 a.m. today.

Both Costlow and Kathrine L. Allison, 31, 144 Griner Ave., claimed the green light according to the report completed by Circleville Police.

Both vehicles were heavily damaged.

Some 7.5 million tons of rock salt were sprinkled on streets and roads in the United States last year for the purpose of removing snow. Highway engineers say salt is cheaper and faster than other chemical preparations.

Cancer Crusade Has Triple Aim

Ted Williams, chairman, has announced that the 1970 educational and fund-raising Crusade of the American Cancer Society is currently in progress in Pickaway County.

"We're out to tell people that it's what they don't know about cancer that can hurt. We mean to instruct them in personal ways of protecting themselves against cancer," he said. "We'll be marshalling the efforts of volunteers in Pickaway County to bring home the message—'Fight cancer with a checkup and a check.'"

"We have a triple aim this April," Williams explained. "First, we want to encourage every member of the community to have a regular health checkup, including cancer tests. Examples of these tests are the Pap test for early detection of uterine cancer, and the procto, an examination for a common cancer, cancer of the bowel."

"Second, we hope to teach people protective measures against cancer. By that we mean personal action, for example the use of caution in the sun to avoid skin cancer. Another example is quite famous—an end to cigarette smoking to prevent lung cancer."

"Third, we must raise the money to support vital ACS programs of research, education and service to cancer patients. We look to the laboratories for the final solution to the cancer problem. Today there are 1.5 million Americans alive and cured of cancer. What tomorrow may bring depends on the imagination and expertise of scientists and the support of us all."

U.S., Russia Open Meeting On Arms Limits

VIENNA (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union opened talks today to see if they can check the nuclear arms race, President Nixon told the Russians he hopes the nuclear missile arsenals of the superpowers can be first limited and then reduced.

The two delegations opened the substantive round of the strategic arms limitation talks—SALT—at a ceremony in the ornate, historic Belvedere Palace. They had arranged the negotiations at a preliminary round in Helsinki during the winter.

Chief U.S. Delegate Gerard Smith read a message from Nixon pledging his "firm commitment to the search for an early, equitable, verifiable agreement." The President said he had given Smith "authority to approach the issue in the most comprehensive manner."

Nixon said he hoped the Soviet Union would "carry into the Vienna meetings the same determination to bring about a mutually acceptable agreement."

Deputy Foreign Minister Vladimir Semenov, head of the Soviet delegation, said his government "would welcome a reasonable accommodation in this sphere and in any case will do its best for these negotiations to be useful."

Semenov said the Soviet Union favors peace but intensification of the strategic arms race "serves the interests of aggressive imperialist circles," a Communist term usually applied to the United States.

The talks are expected to continue for three months in Vienna, then move to Helsinki after a summer pause. Both sides have indicated no agreement is expected for months and perhaps for years.

Business Briefs

G. C. Murphy Company's 1970 first quarter earnings of 14 cents per share, an increase of 56 per cent, were announced by Edgar L. Paxton, president, at the firm's annual meeting of shareholders held April 14 in McKeesport, Pa.

Sales for the quarter increased 13.2 per cent over the same period for 1969. In announcing improved 1970 first quarter earnings, Paxton said part of the gain could be attributed to an earlier Easter.

Sales of PPG Industries for the first quarter of 1970 were $263,102,000, a decline of about three per cent from record sales of $271,501,000 in 1969.

Earnings for the period were $7,367,000 or 36 cents per share, compared with earnings of $12,508,000 or 61 cents per share a year earlier.

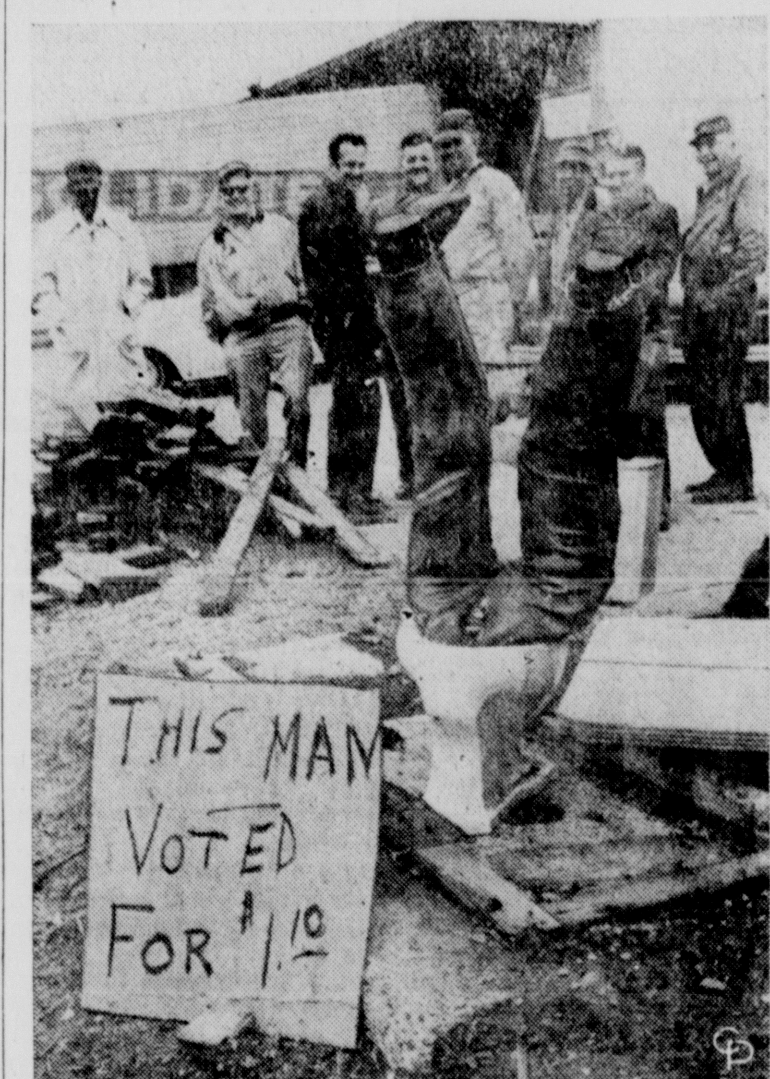

Board Chairman Robinson F. Barker attributed the decline to: a slackening in major market areas, especially transportation and construction, caused by government measures to slow the economy; inflation, which has increased the costs of doing business; a severe winter, which delayed completion of many major glazing projects.
